U.S. Accuses Russia of Creating 'East' Tension

Tribal Council Hires Planner For Section 14 Development

Agua Caliente Indian Tribal Council yesterday afternoon announced the hiring of a planning consultant firm, and at the same time pigeon-holed a request by the city to come up with a recommended committee to investigate urban redevelopment.

Viola Olinger, chairman of the Tribal Council, said that "the council feels that they can't give an answer to the request until the planning consultant has completed his job," which is scheduled for April 25.

The new consultant firm is Victor Gruen and Associates, of Los Angeles, well known throughout the United States as city planners. Among the projects currently under way by the firm is the replanning of the city of Fort Worth, Texas.

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE for the firm will be Ben H. Southland, an architect. He said yesterday that he would have a field staff of from three to 12 compiling data. Their work will consist of completing a detailed master plan for Section 14, and a land use plan for all 7,000 acres within the city limits.

In breaking down his task here, Southland said that they would meet with representatives of the city, state, county, flood control, and planners to learn what needs must be considered to coordinate with these agencies. The plan will consist of land uses, zoning, street patterns, and utility easements.

The hiring of a planning consultant by the local tribe has been under consideration for more than three years and was approved by Washington on Oct. 25, but the Tribal Council did not receive the contract until yesterday morning.

MRS. OLINGER SAID that the Indians now have a firm which can do the planning of Section 14 and other Indian lands, and that both the new company and the tribal council are dedicated to having the highest type of development, consistent good zoning and site restrictions.

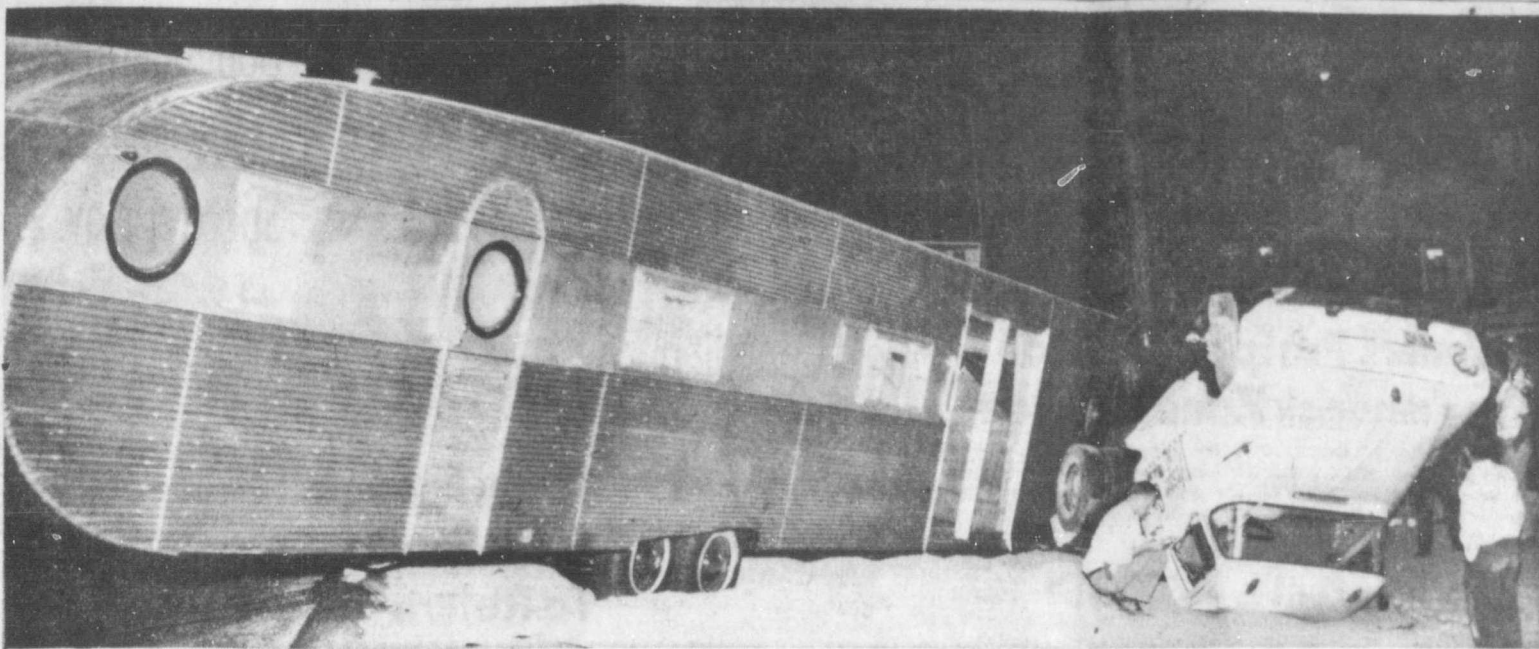

The council said that they were not "putting one project ahead of another," and were not "jumping to conclusions" in listing a priority projects. The master plan will be completed before the council will act on any projects.

The firm will work on the flood control problem in January when the interim report from the U.S. Engineers survey is expected to be released. Southland said that the flood control problem is a serious one and one not easy to solve.

WHEN THE MASTER plan is put into use, the local Indians are hoping that the government will release local Tribal and allotted lands for long term leases. In speaking of long term leases, the council is thinking of 25 and 50 years, which is the minimum term to attract builders with plans for big projects—i.e.: Hotels, housing developments, etc.

In Section 14, 640 acres, 75 are tribal owned land, 31 acres are not under federal authority including 10 acres owned by the Palm Springs Unified School District, and the balance is allotted lands.

Tribal leaders said that they fully realize that Palm Springs economy depends a great deal on the people who are currently living on the reservation, and though they believe it is a problem that faces the entire city, they have promised complete cooperation to help the city and the people all they can.

FIRST ACCIDENT on the new Araby Point Bridge was recorded by the California Highway Patrol last night, when a trailer, being towed by a truck-tractor, careened off the west side of the southern approach, with the driver escaping injury as his cab turned over on its top. The two units ended in a peculiar juxtaposition as residents of the Horizon Trailer Village rushed to the scene to offer aid. Bystanders pointed questionably at the turnoff from the bridge approach to Horizon Trailer Park, and asked why a turn approach leading into the Horizon Trailer Park was not provided in the new construction. The bridge was built by the state to bring to a halt the many accidents that previously were recorded at the old Araby Point dip and curve. (Desert Sun Photo)

Phone Rate Increase Plea To Bring Storm of Protests

Doak Davis, Palm Springs district manager for the California Water and Telephone Company, today received notice that the company has filed a request with the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California for authority to file a revised schedule for advertising rates, increasing them, and also filing notice that the company plans to apply for a general rate increase for its service in a short time.

The application, which is expected to raise a storm of local protests insofar as the general rate increase is concerned, is on file with the PUC today.

tion was notification that the company plans to file an application for an increase in telephone service rates generally and that this plea will "be filed shortly."

In view of the vast number of complaints against service here, subject of PUC hearings, the application for the general rate increase is expected to arouse a storm of protests.

Hungary Asks Refugees Back

VIENNA, AP — Hungary's puppet government offered an amnesty today to the 92,000 Hungarian refugees from Communist terror if they return to their homeland by the end of this year.

The offer was broadcast over Budapest Radio to a nation still crippled by a bitter general strike. The thousands of refugees crammed into emergency camps in Austria received the offer cynically, with no thought of accepting it.

RADIO BUDAPEST, citing the government organ Nep Szabadsg, said the amnesty law had been approved by the government of Soviet sponsored Premier Janos Kadar. It said the text of the decree would be published "shortly."

The announcement said no action would be taken against any of the men, women and children who fled across the Iron Curtain to freedom in the wake of the Hungarian rebellion, provided they return to Hungary before Jan. 1.

KADAR OBVIOUSLY hoped to play on the traditional homesickness of Hungarians who have left the land of the Magyars.

But the surge of refugees into Austria continued. In the past 24 hours, another 4,800 crossed the Austro-Hungarian frontier. This was a slight increase after two days in which the numbers decreased.

Chinese, Indian Leaders Confer

NEW DELHI, AP — Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai arrived today for a state visit during which Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru is expected to ask him to intercede with Moscow over the Soviet intervention in Hungary.

The smiling Chou was welcomed here by Nehru and thousands of Indians who thronged the airport chanting that Indians and Chinese are brothers.

Chinese Communist flags were flying throughout the city in honor of the visit and thousands lined the streets to welcome the representative of the world's most populous nation. Thousands of persons were rushed to the capital by special train.

The Chinese Reds have been lukewarm in their support of the Soviet Union on its armed intervention in Hungary. Informed sources said Nehru would impress on Chou the Free World's concern. Nehru was said to feel the Russians would listen to Chou.

Tractor-Trailer Involved in First Bridge Accident

A 45-foot Airfloat trailer, being pulled by a truck-tractor, last night became the first casualty on the new Araby Point bridge, just one week after the project was opened by the California Division of Highways.

Rawling Davis of Supelveda, Calif., driver, narrowly escaped injury when the tractor was flipped over the side of the south approach and almost into the wall of Horizon Trailer Park.

The trailer, on its way from the factory to a trailer dealer, was being transported by the Vesper Company of Long Beach.

ACCORDING TO Davis, he had just cleared the top of the new bridge following behind another trailer pulled by an automobile. Another automobile sped past the Airfloat and shot in between the two trailer units. Just at that moment, the first trailer slowed suddenly and turned into the Horizon Trailer Village, and the car between jammed on its brakes, and came to a fast stop.

Davis applied the brakes of the tractor and said that he heard "something snap" and the trailer began to wobble. Long skid marks and deep gouges in the new pavement marked the path of the huge trailer as it went on its way over the side of the approach.

AS THE TRAILER went over, it flipped the tractor completely over, and it came to rest upside-down.

Safety Council To Name Officers

Palm Springs Safety Council will elect permanent officers and board of directors at its meeting at 4 p.m., Thursday, at the Frances S. Stevens School.

Don Miller, temporary chairman and heads of temporary committees will give reports, to all persons interested in safety, who are invited to attend.

Explosion at Railroad Wreck Scene Raises Death Toll to 5

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., AP — Two railroad workers were killed and seven others were injured today when a diesel locomotive fuel tank exploded as they tried to remove the charred bodies of three men killed in a fiery rail crossing collision 15 hours earlier.

The second explosion occurred as railroad wrecking crews used welding torches to cut apart the twisted metal of twin diesels and a gasoline transport truck which crashed and burned late Tuesday. It killed the death toll in the accident to five.

THE SECOND BLAST killed George Marquardt, 56, LaCrosse, Ind., and Otto Herman Keen, 48, Wanatah, Ind.

The injured were rushed in ambulances to Doctors Hospital at Michigan City.

Authorities said a fuel tank on one of the wrecked locomotives blew up while rail employees swarmed over the fire-blackened

Bunker Named Ambassador To India, Succeeds Cooper

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga., AP — President Eisenhower today named Ellsworth Bunker, retiring president of the American Red Cross, as the new ambassador to India.

Bunker was given a recess appointment, subject to later Senate confirmation, to succeed John Sherman Cooper, Republican recently elected to the Senate from Kentucky.

Earlier, the President announced the appointment of Dr. Lawrence Gridley Derthick, Chattanooga, Tenn., to be federal commissioner of education.

WHITE HOUSE Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to comment on press dispatches from London reporting increasing British concern over differences between this country and the United Kingdom over Middle East policies.

Told that British Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler had called a special Cabinet meeting to avert a formal break with the United States over the Middle East, Hagerty said glumly, "I haven't any comment on it."

Mr. Eisenhower was in his temporary White House office at the Augusta National Golf Club at 8:30 a.m. and received a highly confidential briefing on overnight international developments from Col. Andres Goodpaster, White House staff secretary and press dential liaison for Defense Department matters.

MR. EISENHOWER planned to take advantage of sunny crisp weather and play golf later in the day. He also was expected during the day to confer by telephone with Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr.

The President will send the White House plane, the Columbine III, to Key West, Fla., to pick up Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and fly him to a Sunday conference here with Mr. Eisenhower.

The White House announced two weeks ago that Bunker had resigned from his Red Cross post to be succeeded by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring NATO defense force commander.

HAGERTY SAID today that Bunker, before going to New Delhi in early January, would participate with the President in conferences next month with Indian Prime Minister Nehru who arrives in Washington Dec. 16.

Bunker, a Democrat, has been head of the Red Cross since January, 1954. He was the ambassador to the Argentine in 1951 and envoy to Italy from April, 1952, to April, 1953. Before he entered government service, he was a director of a number of big American corporations.

X-Ray Unit Open Until 4 Today

Final chance for Villagers to take advantage of the free X-Ray service of the Riverside County Tuberculosis Association will be until 4 p.m., today, at the Mobile unit located on Palm Canyon Drive near the Welwood Murray Memorial Library.

The unit will move to Cathedral City tomorrow, where it will be located all day.

Late News Bulletins

BULLETIN — Harvey Mundschen, head of Miscellaneous Employees Local 440, vice president of the Los Angeles Labor Council, said today that "if the situation at the Oasis hotel is not straightened out right away, with the signing of a contract, we will picket every hotel in the Western Hotel Chain." These include the Mayfair in Los Angeles, Sir Frances Drake in San Francisco and hotels in the Pacific Northwest. He made this statement after learning that the Superior Court yesterday had issued an injunction against pickets at the Oasis. It was further learned from Los Angeles that unions are planning a boycott campaign against this community because of the passage of the Right-to-Work ordinance.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark AP — Russia's Foreign Minister D. T. Shepilov said tonight he has "incontestable information" that Britain, France and Israel intend to attack Syria, Lebanon and other Mideastern countries.

DOW-JONES final stock averages: 30 industrials 466.10, off 4.08; 20 rails 151.25, off 1.83; 15 utilities 65.93, off 0.15, and 65 stocks 165.50, off 1.36.

Knight to Ask $3 Million for Polio Vaccine

SACRAMENTO, AP — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight said today he would ask the 1957 Legislature for $3 million to buy and administer polio vaccine to make "sufficient inroads" into the state's unvaccinated population.

Knight said he planned to request the sum in connection with his proposed three-point immunization program.

HE TOLD A CONFERENCE of local health officers that the money would furnish enough vaccine to provide two injections to at least two million Californians, as outlined in the suggested program.

The governor's program against polio also would give vaccine to people who have received only one or two of the recommended three shots and provide enough serum, "as far as it will go" for every citizen under 40 years of age.

KNIGHT SAID the time had come to offer "blanket" vaccination to six million persons in the state under 40. He said this segment was "our highest polio risk."

Other major changes in the state's public health program Knight said he was proposing, included:

1. More study of the medical significance of air pollution, as against environmental effects.
2. Intensified consideration of the effects of ionizing radiation.
3. Improved health service to sparsely populated rural areas.
4. Increased attention to cancer.

Lloyd Warns: 'Communist Gain'

LONDON, AP — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd warned today that only the Communists gain from what he termed the "acute difference of opinion" between Britain and the United States over Mideast policy.

This split seemed to be growing, as evidenced by newspaper editorials sharply critical of the U.S. interference in British internal affairs and the action of a group of 120-odd Conservative members of Parliament in adopting a resolution declaring that the U.S. attitude gravely threatened the Atlantic alliance.

New Citizens Committee for Schools Planned

Consideration of appointment of a Citizens-Lay Committee by the Board of Education will be taken up tomorrow night when the board meets in regular session at the Frances Stevens School at 7:30.

In his request to the board, Dr. Wallace R. Mueller said that it was believed "that a citizens lay committee appointed on a representative basis would be of inestimable value in developing the building plans for schools in the district. The committee could review existing data, ferret out new information, survey school problems, and develop recommendations to the board for solving issues affecting the schools, and planning for the future."

Dr. Mueller ended his written recommendation by urging speed by the board in getting the program under way as soon as possible.

Other matters up before the board tomorrow night include a change order on the Palm Springs High School administration and science buildings, a report on building costs and bond prices, and a discussion of text book legislation by the superintendent.

Firefighters Block Threat To Town of Santa Ysabel

RAMONA, Calif., AP — A death-dealing brush and timber fire was slowly being brought under control today after turning more than 43,000 acres of valuable watershed into ashes.

More than 1,600 firefighters had hoped to control the blaze in the Cleveland National Forest of San Diego County Tuesday morning. But suddenly rising canyon winds spread flames along the dry San Diego River bed toward the small community of Santa Ysabel.

THE FLAMES REACHED within a half mile of Santa Ysabel before being halted by fire crews. It was in the San Diego River gorge area that 11 firefighters burned to death when they were trapped by a sudden wind shift Sunday.

Despite the flareup, Forest Service officials said the five-day fire might be under complete control by Thursday if weather conditions continue good. Winds which blew more than 40 miles an hour for two days have decreased to less than 15 miles an hour in most sections.

AERIAL TANKERS aided crews Tuesday in controlling all but five miles of an 80-mile fire perimeter before winds fanned the new outbreak. The planes have dropped 20 tons of borate and 10,000 gallons of water since the fire broke out Saturday.

Fire control officers estimated that more than $400,000 will have been spent in fighting the fire by the time it has been fully controlled.

Meanwhile, 80,000 residents of cities in the San Diego area, some 20 miles away from the fire area, were told that the taste and color of their drinking water will be affected for two years as a result of ashes settling in El Capitan Reservoir.

LARGEST CONTRIBUTION to date in the Nellie Coffman Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association's campaign for funds to purchase band uniforms came yesterday from William H. Check Wreckage For Cause of Airline Crash

CARACAS, Venezuela (U.P.) — Investigators searched the wreckage of a Venezuelan airliner today for some clue to the trouble which caused the pilot to crash on a mountain peak only 10 miles from the Caracas airport Tuesday.

Ten Americans, including an entire family of five, died when the LAV, Linea Aeropostal Venezolana, Constellation crashed and exploded on a mountain peak only 10 miles from the Caracas airport Tuesday.

The plane was carrying 18 passengers and a crew of seven on a flight from New York.

Officials said the pilot radioed a distress signal 35 miles from the airport but gave no reason. The Maquetia International Airport was closed in by rain and low ceiling at the time.

Minutes later, the huge luxury airliner smashed into the north side of the Avila Mountain Range surrounding the airport. The explosion scattered bodies and debris over a wide area some 1,800 feet from the top of a peak.

Bob Alderman To be Lions Club Speaker Nov. 29

Robert G. "Bob" Alderman, speaker at the Lions Club meeting at noon Thursday at the Chi Chi, heads an organization specializing in campaign management, legislative representation, industrial relations, labor relations, publicity and advertising in San Francisco.

In 1943, Alderman became the first San Francisco manager for Braun and Company, national management consulting firm, a post which he held for six years. He left to become executive secretary to the then Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight, continuing in that capacity after Knight became Governor last year. He resigned in January when his health was threatened because of the arduous duties of that office.

A native of Fort Wayne, Indiana, Alderman has resided in California since 1920. He is a former newspaperman, his first assignment having been with the Sioux City, Iowa, Tribune, where he graduated from high school. He was editor of the Woodland Record in Yolo County, and is a life member of the San Francisco Press and Union League Club and a long-time member of the California Newspaper Publishers Association and the California Press Association.

Alderman is also a founding member of the Public Relations Round Table of San Francisco and since 1939 has been active in the Commonwealth Club of California. He is also a member of the Public Relations Society of America and the San Francisco Advertising Club.

The topic of his speech Thursday will be "Campaign Blunders and Common Mistakes of Uncommon Men."

Crew Leaves Ship, Plans To Return

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.) — Globe Wireless reported today that the San Francisco freighter Charles Dant had been abandoned in Lingayen Gulf in sight of the Philippine shore and rescue ships were attempting to beach the disabled ship.

A later report from the ship's agents in Manila confirmed that the crew had left the ship in lifeboats, but the agents insisted the ship was not in danger nor was it sinking.

JOHN M. BRADLEY, manager of Dodwell and Company Ltd., agents for the ship in Manila, said that the crew had left the ship for the night and would remain ashore overnight at Damortis, a town in Pangasinan Province facing Lingayen Gulf.

Bradley said that the crew would "board the ship again Thursday" and added that there is "absolutely no intention of abandoning the ship." He said that a tugboat, the Kabil of the Luzon Stevedoring Company, was along side of the disabled ship.

Apparently, officials in Manila said, the radio report that the crew was going ashore overnight was misinterpreted as an abandon ship message.

MEANWHILE, AMERICAN military planes from the Philippines, Okinawa and Japan joined Japanese and U.S. surface craft for the second day today in a race to save the lives of 42 shipwrecked crew members of a sunken Japanese freighter.

The U.S. Far East Air Force ordered six amphibious SA-16 Dumboes into the hunt for the seamen of the 2,727-ton Towa Maru which sank in the Pacific east of Okinawa and Formosa Tuesday afternoon. If the seamen were still alive and Japanese Coast Guard officials believed it a long-shot chance, they were being buffeted in their tiny lifeboats by huge waves, kicked up by winds which lashed the area this morning.

HONOLULU (U.P.) — Residents of the northwest coast of Oahu Island were warned today to "be on your guard" for a possible recurrence of huge waves that destroyed one beach home, damaged several others and injured three persons.

The Weather Bureau said the heavy seas, which some persons said were 25 to 35 feet high, were caused by a "deepening low pressure area to the north of the Hawaiian Islands, coupled with heavy winds."

The waves began building up early Tuesday until at last they began smashing into the front yards of beach front homes.

1500 Hungarian College Students Wage Effective Guerrilla Warfare

By RUSSELL JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent
BUDAPEST (U.P.) — More than 1,500 Hungarian college students are waging guerrilla warfare against the Russians with two 85 millimeter anti-tank guns they captured by getting Soviet soldiers drunk.

Sources in contact with the young Hungarians say the students of Sarospatak College have plenty of food, small arms and ammunition, a few shells for the anti-tank guns, and the protection of wild and broken country. The sources said the students can hold out indefinitely.

THE STUDENTS have rejected numerous Soviet appeals to surrender. They control the area near the Soviet border so thoroughly that Russian units can use only the main roads—and only in daylight.

The story of the continuing fight by the students was given to this correspondent during a visit to Tokaj today, famous wine town near the college. Attempts to enter the area were prevented by heavy Soviet roadblocks equipped with tanks, armored cars, artillery and machineguns — the heaviest concentration of Soviet forces since the end of the battle of Budapest.

150 Hungarian Refugees Due To Arrive Today

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (U.P.) — Army officials planned to receive about 150 more Hungarian refugees today, following a three-day lull in "Operation Mercy."

Two airliners carrying the exiles from terror to a new life were scheduled to land at McGuire Air Force Base where the refugees were to be put in buses for the motor trip to this camp.

The Hungarians arriving today bring to 59 the number received at this deactivated military post after the emergency immigration program was put into effect.

Planners Postpone Action On Tamarisk Zone Change

County Planning Commission is expected to hand down a decision on Dec. 11 in an application for a zone change in the Tamarisk Country Club area which would permit erection of apartments and hotels.

Planners Tuesday heard arguments on both sides of the question.

The hearing marked what Harpo Marx, silent zany of the Marx Brothers act, said was his first public speech in 35 years. He was not silent yesterday.

HARPO JOINED Brother Zeppo and several other residents of the club area in protesting the change. Proponents of the project seek a zone change for a 30-acre tract at the northern edge of Tamarisk Country Club from R-1 to R-3.

Owners of homes in the vicinity protested the change declaring that they had invested sums up to $100,000 each on their property and felt that the protection of the R-1 zoning should be maintained.

Enos Reid, Riverside attorney, appeared on behalf of the country club.

HE SAID that the club, too, had invested large sums of money in developing the area for luxury and single-family homes and that a change to an R-3 zone would open the door to development detrimental to the club.

Fred Mottell and Charles A. Jones, applicants for the zoning change, argued for the change declaring it necessary for club members who did not own homes in the area and for visitors attracted by club tournaments and other events.

Attorney Merrill Brown, appearing for Jones, said that present single family homes fringing the golf course provided a buffer zone between the club and proposed hotel.

Cold Canadian Air Hits Great Plains States

By UNITED PRESS
A fresh surge of cold Canadian air swept over the border into the Northern Great Plains early today, while southerly winds warmed the eastern half of the nation.

Weathermen warned of possible local heavy snowfalls near the eastern side of Lake Michigan preceding the arrival of the cold blasts.

NORTHWESTERLY winds, averaging 25-35 miles per hour, were pushing the new cold wave over the Dakotas and into Northwestern Minnesota. The frigid air was to spread south and eastward into the Upper Great Lakes and as far south as Missouri and Northern Oklahoma during the day.

Snow flurries accompanied the chilly air.

COLD AIR STILL covered the eastern portion of the country from the Lower Lakes region to Alabama and eastward to the Atlantic Coast. But southerly winds were moving behind this older cold front and brought general warming from Eastern New Mexico to Louisiana and northeastward into the Upper Great Lakes.

Generally fair weather was enjoyed in the western third of the nation. Freezing drizzle in and around Northern Idaho, however, was expected to make driving conditions hazardous.

New Five-Man County Fair Board Approved by Supervisors; Adds One

The Riverside County Board of Supervisors by adoption of a resolution this week created a five-member advisory committee to counsel and advise them as to administrative and policy matters in connection with the operation of the county fair and national date festival held in Indio in February of each year. It is to be known as the "Fair Board."

The resolution provides that the four lay members of the existing fair committee continue for the balance of the terms for which they have been appointed and that one additional member be appointed to serve until June 30, 1957. Thereafter terms will be for two years with two to expire on June 30 of even numbered years and three to expire on June 30 of odd numbered years.

The four lay members now in office are Wayne Fisher of Blythe, R. B. Farmer of Thermal, Reginald Schisler of La Quinta, and Stanley Ray of Rubidoux.

THE RESOLUTION provides that committee members must have had at least five years experience as a primary or substantial secondary occupation, three members in agricultural or livestock operations, one member in building or construction work, and one member in any business or professional pursuit.

County Fair Manager Bob Fullenwider and County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., who had been asked to study and make recommendations for the creation of the board declared in their report to the supervisors, "We recommend that three members be appointed from the fourth supervisorial district because of the fair's location in that part of the county.

"Of the other two, we think it most desirable that one be appointed from within the city of Riverside and the other from the western part of the county, preferably not from the Hemet-San Jacinto-Perris region where the interest is and properly should be greater in the Hemet Fair."

"Of the present four members, three are from the fourth district and one from the western part of the county. The new vacancy should be filled by an agricultural man."

SUPERVISOR FRED McCall said the recommendation that the appointee from the western end of the county not be made from the Hemet-San Jacinto-Perris area inferred there is friction between the two fairs. "There is no friction that I know of," he declared, "and it seems to me that country-wide representation would make a better fair."

Sullivan agreed that there is no friction between the two fairs and said there would be no objection to having an appointee from the Hemet area that he and Fullenwider believed the Hemet area interest to be rightfully in their own fair.

As to the recommendation that one member of the fair board be from the city of Riverside, Sullivan explained, "Riverside participation in the fair is not what it should be." He said appointment of a Riverside to the board might stimulate more interest from the county seat.

Desert District Attorney Needs Told Supervisors

District Attorney William O. Mackey advised the county supervisors this week that he needs a full time deputy in Indio with an office and equipment for his use.

"The functioning of the district attorney's department in the vicinity of Indio has increased to such an extent that our deputy district attorney who handles that work on a part time basis and pays his own office rent has indicated that he will resign Dec. 31," said Mackey.

The district attorney also asked that a decision be reached before December first as to where space is to be provided in Palm Springs for the justice court, constable and DA's office. He reminded the supervisors that the building in which these departments are now located is to be torn down as soon as the new city hall is completed in approximately one or two months.

Both matters were referred to the county administrative officer and the county personnel officer for study and recommendation.

County to Study Idea of Sheriff's Area Substation

A suggestion that a sheriff's substation be established in the Cathedral City-Rancho Mirage area was received by the county board of supervisors this week and referred to County Administrative Officer Clay Begole for study.

The suggestion was made by William Bronstein, owner of a drive-in theater near Cathedral City who expressed regret at the Vogelaar as resident deputy of the desert area.

Recent resignation of Carroll "Every time we get a resident deputy he ends up in the Palm Springs police department for better pay and working hours," complained Bronstein. "It is not surprising that men such as these are forced to quit because of inadequate work facilities, bad hours, and low pay." He praised Sheriff Joe Rice for doing an excellent job under adverse circumstances.

Bronstein said he would not object to higher taxes if services are improved.

Sixty per cent of all car thefts are charged to teen-agers.

DHS Jewish Community Center To Celebrate Festival of Light

The Jewish Community Group of Desert Hot Springs will hold a week-long celebration of the Festival of Chanukah, the Feast of Dedication, also known as the Festival of Lights, starting tonight Nov. 28.

On Friday night, special holiday services will be held at Improvement Association Hall, with Rabbi Isaac E. Bloch officiating. He will be assisted by Samuel Axelrod, president of the Group. Following the service, the Sisterhood of the Group will tender a reception in honor of Rabbi Bloch, who will be celebrating a birthday on that day.

On Monday night, Dec. 3, a meeting of the Group will be held at Improvement Association Hall, when Rabbi Bloch will officiate at the ritual of kindling the Chanukah candles. Following the service, he will show films of Israel, and will speak on present happenings in the Holy Land, and their relation to the activities of the ancient Maccabees, whose victory over King Antiochus, and the Syrian-Hellenic Armies is the basis for the Chanukah celebration.

Rabbi Bloch spent part of the summer in the Holy Land, and witnessed some of the events which led to the recent Israeli-Egyptian conflict. Visitors are cordially welcome to both celebrations.

Rabbi Bloch will telecast a Chanukah message over station KIVA, Channel 11, on Thursday morning from 10 to 10:30 a.m.

Mozart Requiem to be Presented Here by Civic Chorus Thursday Night

HARRY TOMLINSON

The Mozart Requiem, one of the greatest choral works ever written, will be presented tomorrow night, Nov. 29, at 8:15 o'clock, by the Palm Springs Civic Chorus, Harry Tomlinson conductor, at Ca-huilla School.

This will be the opening concert of the Palm Springs Music Society season, and marks the seventh year that the Civic Chorus has been an important part of community life in Palm Springs.

Fifteen of the chorus members have been in the organization since its beginning. The Chorus rehearses twice a week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, at the high school, as a feature of the Adult Education Program. Anyone enjoying singing is invited to join the Civic Chorus.

Present members include Helen Marilyn Anderson, Mary Athans, Joan Calacerinos, Stanley Carlson, Mrs. Marguerite Clapp, Russell Corder, John Crouholm, Eunice Croke, Patricia Dyal, Alex Hammond, Mrs. Mildred Fitzgerald, Fred Ferguson, Mrs. Ellen Harboe, Theony Giannos, Edna Helmerich, Jack Hillery.

Also Joseph Hoban, Mary Hoover, Walter Larson, Alvin Lake, Mrs. Lois Leek, R. Brownell McGrew, Alex Malloy, Ruth Malloy.

Mrs. Reba Mason, Elsie Merritt, Robert Nims, Rachel Nommenson, John Norman, Mrs. Florence Noles, Warren Ohler.

And Ezma Panlaqui, Mrs. Mary Raphael, Roger Richard, Evelyn Spikre, Mary Ann Spencer, Mrs. Liv Toft, Per Toft, David Tomlinson, Mrs. Gloria Walter, Mrs. Ver-ta Warren, Gary Wolfe, Lea Wolfe, Mrs. Joyce Zypher.

Mrs. Christine Tomlinson will be the organ accompanist for the Mozart Requiem.

SAUND ADVICE

It will be helpful to the citizens of Riverside County when Congressman-elect Saund gets his mind off India and begins giving some thought to the problems of the district he is to represent. His one-man crusade to bring a better understanding between the people of his native country and America makes us wonder if we elected a representative of Riverside and Imperial counties to Congress or an Ambassador to India. His objective is noble but highly impractical.

Just how much the people of India are going to be impressed by a native born Indian having been elected to Congress we do not know. It would be our guess that this fact isn't going to change India's attitude toward America. And, after all, why should it? If America is to be set up as an example to the free world, the opportunity which it gives its own native-born citizens is of the greatest importance.

Be that as it may, the fact remains that it would be better for a newly elected Congressman to start at the district level and work up to international relations. Saund will represent one of the largest and most complex Congressional districts. His first duty is to learn the sentiments and problems of the people he is to represent.

Saund got off to a bad start by failing to file an account of his campaign expense and contributions within the required time. It was a serious oversight for which he could be prosecuted. He can be forgiven for that, but it should be a lesson to him that a new Congressman should keep his mind on matters of immediate importance.

Slogan Change Suggested

It might be a lot better if Saund would abandon his campaign slogan: "If elected, I will return to India." Now that he has been elected his constituents would not likely mind if he would promise instead to return to his district after Congress adjourns and try to find out the wishes and needs of the people he represents. Perhaps we are wrong—but we think he could be performing a much better public service here than in India. Candidates are not prone to keep their campaign promises anyway, so Saund wouldn't have much to worry on that score.

And as long as we're giving all of this free and friendly advice to our Congressman-elect, we suggest that he shouldn't be too flattered by the attention paid him by much-sued columnist Drew Pearson. It could be the "kiss of death."

LONGEVITY AND CHILDREN

(Liberal, Kan., Southwest Daily Times)

Longevity is the ideal today. In 1920 there were 6.4 million children orphaned in losing one or both of their parents, while last year the number dropped to 2.7 millions. The decline, cut largely by improved medical science is even more significant when considering the great decrease in the number of children under 18—a total of 55.5 million in 1955 compared to 40 million in 1920.

FREEDOM

(Port Huron, Mich., Times-Herald)

Whether you call it a democracy or a republic, whether you judge its benefits by the car in your garage or by the freedom to worship at the church of your choice or by your freedom to speak out in public without fear, you are living under a system of government based on the dignity and freedom of the individual, that derives its powers from the bottom up rather than from the top down. . . . Like the stars in the sky, the continuation of this system is too often taken for granted.

Believe it or not, the hair-triggered pistol in this Doodle is actually a reject from the new batch of Schweine Kitzenger inventions. The idea was discarded due to their high standards and also because they found out somebody else had already thought of it. But Schweine and Kitzenger don't care because they just got a Navy contract to build one of those big "Forrestal" type aircraft carriers. They beat out all of their competitors by offering a bid of only 400 dollars. Seems like a ridiculously low figure but the boys plan to cut corners by building the ship out of plastic and old orange crates. I know the idea sounds kind of dopey but don't forget, so are Schweine and Kitzenger.

And after the turk
Without a pause,
They started Greetings
To Santa Claus.

Some communities didn't even wait until they got the bird. They had their decorations up before Thanksgiving. And with that windstorm which swept the southland, some of the Santas and tinsel trees, were a bit wind-blown and bedraggled almost a month before Christmas.

And, just like they tear up the streets in the busiest season, huge trucks blocked traffic in some towns on busy Saturday afternoons while workmen hung the decorations.

THE U. S. Chamber of Commerce has just come forth with its annual booklet — "Special Months, Weeks and Days" for 1957. And it looks as if we won't have a day to call our own, what with the many things we are asked to observe.

Forgetting for the nonce some of the serious days such as Christmas, Thanksgiving, July Fourth and the like, and the religious holidays, there is the usual rash of others.

CONSIDER A FEW, for instance. We will again have "Save the Horse Week" in October and "Old Maids' Day" June 4. (Many of them would like to have a day.) Then, coming early in January is "National Croquet Week." Anybody for tating?

April, which starts out with All Fools Day, is devoted to "National Laugh Month," also National Ladder Month." Falling off one will get you the other — from onlookers.

"Another interesting week is set aside for 'Better Bedding Time.' Whether that has to do with mattresses, springs, sheets or blankets, or just applies to more healthful slumber hours, I do not know. There is no "National Sleep Week."

THERE IS ALSO a "Do It Yourself Week" about the same time as we have "Domestic Rabbit Week." Both seem to me to be rather hare-brained.

The year is drawing to an end and they are crowding in as many special events into seven days as they can. Take this week, November 18 to 24.

My 1956 book tells me there are five weeks crowded into it. We are asked to mark "Children's National Book Week," "Diabetes Week," "National Latin-American Week," "National Cage Bird Week," and "Worldwide Bible reading."

The latter could be a good idea all year.

BUT THERE is an exceedingly timely week coming up week after next — "National Prosperity Week," December 3 to 9. It is a good thing they are observing it then. For after January 1 when the window envelopes reveal the extent of our Christmas shopping, none of us is going to feel so pretty prosperous.

Going back to that "Save the Horses Week" wonder of that is what is influencing our Superiors in their stand on the proposed Quarter Horse track here.

And, by the way, whatever has happened to the proposal for a thoroughbred track here?

INEZ ROBB:

On Government Techniques

Presidents may come and Presidents may go, but there are certain eternal verities in the nation's capital that make for continuity in time, tide and government.

No matter who wins the giant jackpot on any election go-round, Washington's "legislative engineers" will be up, bright-eyed and bushy-tailed and ready for a hard day's work when the time arrives for the first pre-luncheon Martini.

And if "legislative engineers" sounds alien to your ears — as if something new had been added to the national scene — relax. One of the oldest and most familiar figures in legislative halls has simply taken a flyer in semantics and rechristened himself.

OUR OLD PROTAGONIST has obviously realized that this is the age of the engineer, and restyled himself in accordance. He need only glance at the classified advertising sections of any American Sunday newspaper to discover that industry is crying for radiographic, electronic, marine, industrial, missile guidance, radar navigation, bombing system and chemical engineers.

This rechristened rose, who would smell as much by any other name, sees big business begging for inertial navigation, standards, nuclear, material, design, metallurgical and communications engineers. And he has scarcely scratched the surface. He sees advertisements for engineers in fields that scarcely existed 10 to 20 years ago.

So that familiar cog in the halls of government, that combination huckster, high-pressure salesman and host-with-the-most, the lobbyist, has streamlined himself for the immediate future as a "legislative engineer."

IF AN UNDERTAKER can call himself a mortician, then there is no law against the lobbyist gussying himself up as a legislative engineer. And it is undoubtedly the only branch of engineering today in which there is post-tively no manpower shortage. There will undoubtedly be a hundred to a customer — i.e., any Congressman — by the time Congress reconvenes.

It will be interesting now to see if the 5-10-and-15 percenters can come up with a new and classy handle for themselves. I venture a suggestion to this group of Washington influence peddlers. If they are in search of a real designation to inflict upon themselves the cachet of respectability, here it is.

Why not call themselves "The Georgians," which is a composite of "let-George-do-it, but only for a fat fee on the side."

THIS URGE ON the part of lobbyists to translate themselves into "legislative engineers" and promote for themselves an aura of professional dignity is part and parcel of the American dream — the same drive that promoted the hair dresser into a beautician and the real estate man into a realtor.

This is still the country where any ambitious sow's ear can become a silk purse since the decline and fall of head cheese.

Unedited

I do not believe there is a better guy living, a thorough human being, than this fellow the world calls Bob Hope.

Wherever he shows up in public he is instantly the target of people who want to say hello and "you remember me, Mr. Hope" and plenty of tucking at the sleeve. But he takes it most graciously. If you do not know this, he has been a home owner here for many years and simply loves Palm Springs.

The other night I met Bob Hope for the first time in a long time and quickly I asked him if he would leave his table and go backstage with me to tape my radio show. There I was just as guilty as the people I wrote about above. But his acquiescence was gladly given.

All of this happened in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi the other night at Ginny Simms debut for the first time on the stage of Starlite Room.

I ALSO ASKED another beautiful lady by the name of Frances Langford whom I've known for a long time and of course Ginny Simms. Sure enough, when I went backstage and without a another word from me, Bob Hope, Frances Langford and Ginny Simms soon followed. I am not writing this in order to gloat over the fact that three of the greatest talented stars came at my call to do what I had asked them.

This is merely to point up the fact that these people are so human and in spite of being pulled hither and yon by admirers, they gladly heed and agree to do things which are really an imposition upon them. Thanks, you people—Bob Hope, Frances Langford and Ginny Simms. But I also remember when Bob has said no too, and rightfully so, when I sought to take a picture of him or to give with a story. Graciously though, and like a gentleman.

THE OTHER NIGHT I met an old friend. One with whom I served in the air forces during World War II and who is known by hundreds right here in Palm Springs . . . Lee Bering.

Lee Bering, the dashing pilot, the former major whom I was ordered to teach close formation drill to by our commanding officer. He was sitting against the wall in front of a table with friends and his lovely wife, dining in the Dunes. When I approached I quickly noticed the crutches that were propped against that wall and ex-Major Lee Bering's eyes lit up like a Christmas tree as he espied me making my way toward his table.

Certainly we embraced. I'm not ashamed of embracing a male friend, especially a guy like Lee. Of course, those of you who read this column know by now that he is minus one leg. But this man with the robust cheerfulness and that attitude of "let's get the thing done" still has the same spirit. He kidded about the stub of that leg and then went on to inform me:

"Bill, I'm going back into business."

"Where," I asked, "and what kind of business, Lee?" And he answered:

"Why the only business I really know. The restaurant business." I was impressed with the tone of his voice. Vibrant, enthusiastic and just the old Lee Bering that we have known for a long time. "This leg—that's not going to stop me, Bill. I'm going on from here as if nothing in the world ever happened to me." He was a good tonic for me in cheerful living and again that old one, "that nothing is so bad that it can't be worse."

THE OTHER DAY I mentioned to Wolfe Gilbert, West Coast director of ASCAP that I've looked high and low for a copy of the song many of us many remember called: "Second Hand Rose." It was one of Fanny Brice's favorites and she could do the song up but good. The words are really comical. Today, direct from New York City (that Wolfe must have wired for the copy) it arrived at my desk. The words were written by Grant Clarke and the music by James F. Hanley, and it was published by Shapiro, Bernstein Company, New York City.

In the song, Miss Brice moaned that all she ever got was "Second hand hats, second hand clothes and that's why they call me second hand Rose." The funniest line I believe goes this way: "Even Jake the plumber, he's the man I adore. He had the nerve to tell me he's been married before."

How times have changed! Second hand husbands are popular today.

EARL WILSON:

Ode to Mother-in-Law

NEW YORK — My Gorgeous Mother-in-law, just galloped past her 72nd milestone and is still rational despite having a crazy salon columnist for a son-in-law.

For 14 years she's been jolted out of her sleep by an ice-box raider who strikes at 4 a. m. "She sets a nice table," as they say in East St. Louis — her old home section, but I confess we do have a problem here at Hill-billy Hall.

It's about my mother-in-law's daughter.

This daughter cherishes the opinion that she's qualified to cook Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners. My mother-in-law knows full well that a mere strip of a girl of only 40 hasn't even learned the rudiments.

Beyond that, the barefoot mother-in-law has control.

And after watching the recent Broadway shows wherein almost every home is a special kind of hell, I like to get away from the so called "amusement" of the theater and return to my mother-in-law's domain, which is a Coney Island fun house by comparison.

WHICH BRINGS TO mind that there are some normal people around.

Robert Young was supposed to be orating to me about the wonders of his TV show, "Father Knows Best," the other day. He instead mentioned that the Youngs are celebrating their 24th anniversary soon.

"Have you any problems with your four daughters?" I asked. "I sure have!" He had the air of a man who'd been waiting years to be asked that question. "My daughter Kathy can't understand why we have little Lauren Chapin playing her part on the program."

"To the real Kathy, this whole thing makes no sense. I told her it wouldn't be fair to her to play herself without any acting experience."

"As far as she's concerned, she can play Kathy because she is Kathy, so why does she need any acting experience?"

"And when somebody says to her, 'We just love you on the show,' she gets very injured and says—'Oh, NO! I'm not on the show—Lauren's in the show!'"

Everybody's got problems—but my mother-in-law's lightened mine. I don't know how to tell her, except like this, I figured I'd better do something real quick (after forgetting to get her a present).

Jr. Women's Club Formed In Village

The organizational meeting for the Palm Springs Junior Women's Club was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald E. Williams at 2336 Cardillo Avenue. Presiding officer was Mrs. James Kelly of Indio, recording secretary for the California Federation of Women's Clubs, Junior member.

Objective for the club is to aid in the advancement of general culture and education, and for civic and philanthropic service to the community. Sponsored by the C.F.W.C. DeAnza District, the club is open to women in the 18-35 age group.

By-laws were adopted Monday night and first officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Ted Ratcliff, president; Mrs. Donald E. Williams, first vice president; Mrs. Morris DeWitt Sale, second vice president; Mrs. Joan M. Winkler, recording secretary; Mrs. William Larson, treasurer; Lillian Berger, corresponding secretary. Appointive officers are Mrs. W. S. Mentzer, parliamentarian; Mrs. William Anderson, publicity chairman; Mrs. Richard Kimberly, membership chairman.

The club will meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, with the next meeting scheduled for December 11 at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Marvin DeWitt Sale at 1189 North Calle Marcus.

The installation dinner will be held sometime after the first of the year.

TICKET BOOKS for the 1957 season of Palm Springs Playhouse were handed out by Guild president Mrs. John Luccareni, seated, at a Monday luncheon at Hotel Oasis for ticket chairmen. Jim Cavett, of Rotary Club, signs a receipt for tickets, while Mrs. Harry Clatworthy of O.E.S., and Mrs. Arnold N. Anderson of the Catholic Church, look on. Seven-teen civic groups were represented at the luncheon. (Desert Sun Photo).

Playhouse Guild Launches Its 1957 Membership Drive

Launching the membership drive for Palm Springs Playhouse Guild was the luncheon Monday at The Oasis Hotel when Guild president Mrs. John F. Luccareni distributed ticket books for the 1957 theatre season to ticket chairmen from 17 civic organizations. All ticket books are sold through the Guild with participating organizations receiving 10 per cent commission on their sales.

At the luncheon Mrs. Luccareni stressed the importance of advance sales of ticket books to help insure continuance of good theatre, as produced by Herb Rogers at the Playhouse each winter. It was decided that there will be no raise in admission prices for star performances this year. A book of 10 tickets sells for $25.

First play of the season will be a sophisticated comedy "Roomful of Roses," and the first of the First Nighter dinners is scheduled to be held January 22 at LaPaz. This year's ticket chairmen are:

ANNOUNCED this week by Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Knapp of 596 Via Escuela, was the engagement of their daughter Carolyn to Kenneth Carter of Riverside. Both are attending Riverside College and no date has been set for the wedding.

Harvest Festival On Friday

Holiday gift items and other enticing wares such as homemade pastries, jellies, mince meat and condiments, and an array of hand-made dolls, aprons, baby garments and novelties will be on sale Friday, when the Women's Circle of the Community Church holds its annual Harvest Festival. Gift items will be on sale in the former Denslow Gift Shop on the Desert Inn grounds, starting at 10 a.m.

That evening at 6:30 p.m., in the social hall of the Community Church, Mrs. Paul Burkholder and her Naomi Group will serve the dinner that is always a major part of the Harvest Festival.

There will be a table of home-made goodies, including fruit cakes, candy and plum pudding, on sale that evening. This is in charge of the Desert Schooners Mariner.

Proceeds from these projects will go toward the Church's expansion program.

Small Eggs are Termed Best Buy

Small eggs are a good buy this time of year, a poultry specialist with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture reports.

Baxter Newton said that a seasonal increase in small egg supplies and a decrease in large eggs is brought about by pullets replacing ing hens in laying flocks.

Pullets start laying small eggs and need about six weeks to reach full size. But with consumers accustomed to large eggs, demand for the bigger ones continues. The excellent buys thus are in the smaller sizes.

HERE TO SPEND the Thanksgiving holiday with the George E. Camerons Jr. at their Thunderbird home, were Mr. and Mrs. Miles Gray of Santa Barbara. Mrs. Gray is Mrs. Cameron's mother.

Teen Ager's Doll Design Wins Tour

BY JOSEPH DURBIN

United Press Staff Correspondent
BUCYRUS, Ohio (U.P.)—This is the story of a 16-year-old girl whose doll is taking her to Europe.

It all started with a sketch in a book of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas.

Nancy Schieber, used the sketch—of an English yeoman of the guard—as the basis of inspiration for a doll. The doll recently took first prize in the Save the Children Federation Christmas Doll contest sponsored by a national magazine (Seventeen).

"Alfred, the beefeater," as Nancy called her creation, won her a visit to New York and a tour of Europe. During the tour, Nancy will present the 45,000 dolls entered in the contest to underprivileged children in England, France, Ireland, Italy and West Germany.

Her doll is a replica of the historic, brightly-garbed sentry who guards the Tower of London. It has a royal red tunic with purple facing and stripes and gold ornaments. He wears red knee-breeches, and red stockings and plumed hat.

It took two months to make the doll.

The judges in the finals were Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Edith Head, Hollywood fashion designer, and actresses Celeste Holm and Natalie Wood.

"My problem now is making up the school work I will miss during the trip," said Nancy.

"I guess I'll have to do part of it before I leave and hope to catch up with the rest when I get back."

She plans eventually to enter William and Mary College and major in art.

The Desert Sun Wednesday, Nov. 28, 1956 7

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

It may still be true . . . that a prophet is not without honor except in his home town . . . but Ginny Simms' opening at the Chi Chi Monday night . . . found a home town girl making good in a big way . . . and the Starlite Room was crowded . . . to welcome back this singing star that they've been missing . . . A night club act is something new for Ginny . . . but she gives it all the zip and flair of the old days when she sang her way into America's heart . . . with Kay Kyser's band . . . She has matured beauty, a sense of theatre, and that same wonderful voice . . . and many of her friends from show business . . . who were in the audience . . . thought that this means a whole new career for the lovely singer . . .

Ginny opened with the delightful "I've Got a Crush on You" . . . followed by "Who Wouldn't Love You" . . . and judging by the warm reception accorded her . . . these were sentiments shared by the big audience that filled the Starlite Room . . . The new room is so big that audience reaction can seem cold unless it's really enthusiastic . . . as it was Monday night . . .

Ginny sang a group of oscar-winning songs . . . and "Thanks for the Memory" served to introduce Bob Hope, long-time home owner and honorary mayor of Palm Springs . . . who was there for Ginny's opening . . . Other stars in the first night audience were . . . Frances Langford, Virginia O'Brien, Brod Crawford . . . Also in the crowd were Connie and Ruby of the Dunes . . . Clessa Williams and Quay Sargent . . .

Phyllis and Dan Flax . . . Bobbie Perlberg and Nuni Bussey . . . and many others who are close to show business . . .

Preceding the opening . . . Ginny entertained at a huge cocktail party at her home on Mesquite . . . There must have been around 200 in the crowd that filled the house and garden . . . and it was a representative crowd of Palm Springers . . . and most of them went on to the opening . . .

There were Vicki and Billy Malouf, the S. P. Manasses, Don and Elverita Bleitz . . . the Charles Beckers, Jack Luccarenis, P. A. Staleys, B. J. Sanchez . . . Bud and Vie Graves, Evelyn Schiff, Elsinore Machris, Dorothy Gray Brown . . . the Maury Horners, George Wheelers, Frank Bogerts, Sam Taylors . . . Oliver and Frankie Jaynes, the Ward Risolds, George Camerons (he hosted two tables at the opening for around 40 staff members of the Desert Sun and radio station KDES . . . and their wives and husbands) . . . the Joe Pawlings, Jim Hammonds, Jack Kenastons and Bob Kenastons . . . Harry Clatworthy, Joel Stones, A. R. Simons, Ernie Dunlevies . . . Russ Wades, Blake Corliss (Ray was out of town), Dolly Marcuse, Genevieve Berg . . . Marcia Barrett (George has gone back to Chicago), Bill Bogess and his mother . . . the Claude Valeurs, Gladys Stryker, Winsome Courtney, Bob Taliferro, Muriel Fulton . . . and just dozens more . . . A special guest was Earl Brent, who arranged Ginny's new night club act . . .

Blanche Andreus Markillie has received a priority rating . . . and is flying to Japan the day after Christmas to join her husband Major R. C. Markillie . . . The Major is Provost Marshal for four Army camps . . . and they will live 65 miles south of Tokyo . . . probably for the next two years . . . Blanche has kept her house here and they will consider this home base on the mainland as she has sold her house in Olympia, Washington . . .

She leaves here Friday to motor north to Olympia . . . to say goodbye to family and friends . . . She will fly to Japan . . . shipping her car by boat . . .

The arrival of the priority rating came as a happy surprise . . . as she had not expected to get to go to Japan until April . . .

Marcia Barrett tells me that Jerry Handwork is well enough to have visitors now . . . and the days seem long to this active one . . . who is confined to a hospital bed . . . She's in Room 209 at St. Bernardine Hospital in San Bernardino . . . so friends driving to L.A. can easily stop by and say "Hi" . . .

Bertine Treat has accepted the chairmanship of the annual Sponsors Ball . . . which always opens the season at the Palm Springs Playhouse . . . The ball will be at El Mirador on January 14 . . . Looking even farther ahead . . . February 2 is the date selected for this year's Golden Nugget Ball . . . As usual, it will be held at the Tennis Club . . . under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alphonzo Bell Jr. . . . Freddy Kargers orchestra will play . . . and Marusia will show her new collection of fabulous gowns . . . including the ones she did for "Auntie Mame" . . . Proceeds from the Golden Nugget Ball will again go to the Women's Auxiliary of the Desert Hospital . . .

(Listen to Hildy Crawford on KDES, 920 on the dial, Monday through Friday at 11:30 a.m.)

BOB HOPE and Frances Langford were among the numerous show business friends who were in the Chi Chi Starlite Room Monday evening to catch Ginny Simms' opening. (Desert Sun Photo).

AMONG THE GUESTS at Ginny Simms' pre-opening party were Virginia O'Brien and Morey Amsterdam. The latter is also on this week's Chi Chi bill. Composer of "Rum and Coca Cola" and other well-known tunes, Amsterdam gives forth with sophisticated comedy. (Desert Sun Photo).

MOBILE HOME PARKS

By VIRGINIA DAVIS

Now that Thanksgiving Day is past, residents of the mobile home parks are already discussing plans for the Christmas holidays; and in the meantime their regular weekly program of entertainment continues, with dancing, card parties, fashion shows, luncheons, dinners and barbecue suppers, and the various classes in the arts and crafts, with a full calendar for every day and evening.

DeLuxe Park

As Thanksgiving Day was warm and sunny, many DeLuxe residents preferred having dinner on their patios or in their mobile homes, thus affording a closer companionship with relatives and intimate friends who had traveled far to be with them on this day.

One hundred and seventeen guests were present though to partake of the community turkey dinner served.

Art Hendershot, manager of DeLuxe, was master of ceremonies, opening the program with the singing of "God Bless America," followed with a prayer of thanks by Barbara Fairclough.

The tables were spread in the large recreation hall, beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and colorful flowers, all gathered from the lovely gardens of DeLuxe residents.

BUD FAIRCLOUGH furnished the music for the community singing and also played the accordion with Art's two young sons, Jan and Gene.

Nona Ralph and Pat Siman were co-chairmen of decorations. The ladies in the Park who baked the turkeys were Madge Perry, Cecil Porter, Pat Siman, Alice Hendershot, Mae Houston, Bea Fautz and Eleanor Randall.

Following the dinner the evening was spent traveling through Australia with John Davidson.

Davidson spent two and a half years in Australia collecting wild life specimens for the Los Angeles Museum and taking pictures, and it was a program enjoyed by everyone.

AMONG THOSE entertaining friends and relatives in their homes were:

Jessie and Clarence Adams who hosted friends from Port Townsend, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Horace Gleason and their son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Adams and children, Audrey, Irene, Georgia Rae and Cheri Lee, of Wilmington, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Hall.

mark of Stockton, Calif., are here for a ten day stay with Mr. Hallmark's sister, Dell Ferris. Joining them Thanksgiving Day for dinner were Dell's sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Reeder of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Porter Smith of Sahara Trailer Village.

Lynis and Ethel Nelson held open house Thanksgiving from 3 to 5 p.m., followed by dinner for a few intimate friends, among whom were Christine and Arno Glidden and Minnie Hamilton.

ONE OF THE featured parties of the day was the Thanksgiving dinner hosted by Inez and Ed Oleud to a few close friends.

The setting was in the lounge of their spacious 45 foot Pan-American, comfortably seating the twelve guests.

The floral decor was green and yellow. Delicately shaded green candles in crystal candlesticks, an bases of miniature yellow chrysanthemums, adorned a table laid on an exquisitely embroidered linen cloth — an heirloom brought from England, and serviced with the finest of Haviland China and silver. Miniature pilgrims were the place cards, designed and created by Inez.

It was a very gay and festive gathering of old friends and the group were invited back the following night for more turkey, buffet style.

Those present were Alvira and Dave Evans and son, Wallace from LaJolla, Gertrude and Dr. Erven Mellius and son, Aubrey, Vic and Lou Laursen, Marie and Len Wilbur and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Broadbent.

MR. AND MRS. JEROME Brown and children, Marcia and Clifford, of La Mesa, Calif., were dinner guests of Lucile and Roy Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heath of Hemet had dinner with Mrs. Heath's sister and husband, Jean and Charles Hoffer.

Margaret and George Dane are guests for a few days of Frank and Hilda Lent.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beck spent Thanksgiving in Carpinteria, Calif., with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Wheeler, where they were joined by Mr. Beck's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford E. Beck of Taft, Calif., and Mrs. Beck's daughter and family from Hermosa Beach, Cal. and Mrs. A. D. Van Orsdel, recently returned from Korea. This was the first time since the war the three families with their six grandchildren had been together at one time.

Now that Roy Thomas, captain of the DeLuxe shuffleboard team has returned there is apparently much more activity around the courts.

Captain Thomas says they are looking forward to participating in the 1956-57 Palm Springs Inter-Park Shuffleboard Tournament, and hopes to have the strongest team in the league ready for its first game Saturday, Dec. 1. This will be Rancho vs. DeLuxe and played on the Rancho courts.

Becky and Eric Ericson spent Thanksgiving in San Bernardino with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Painter.

GLADS AND CLYDE Jones, with fourteen members of their family, including their sisters and brothers and families, spent several days at Lytle Creek over the holiday. Among the gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. Herb Crandall and family, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Crandall and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Mayer and family.

Percy Collins, of the Ritz Cafe, will return home from the Navy Hospital today.

Saturday night was a big dance night at DeLuxe for all those who liked round, modern and pattern dancing, and the ballroom was filled to overflowing. The attraction was the recent arrival of all the members of the Park's orchestra, with the added attraction of a new drummer, Jack Cain.

The orchestra included: Eugene Cox, who played the flute, Carl Kirkpatrick, clarinet, Charles Pittman, violin, Art Newman, piano and Jack Cain, the drums.

Tramview Park

Thanksgiving Dinner at Tramview was enjoyed by 133 guests with turkey and all the trimmings. To offset the calories a dance was held in the ballroom under the direction of Jack Dunn. Muriel Fletcher and Paul Jones were the callers, and dancing continued through the evening, everyone declaring it a good party, good food and a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Snowden Burch are here for a short stop-over before going to Florida. Mildred Burch was Tramview's pianist last season and Snowden was one of the best shuffleboard players, winning the "Tramview Trophy" last year.

Tramview's Sunday night Community Sing, under the leadership of Katy Stever, is very popular this season. The Community Sing is followed by fun time and pictures.

A contest is now under way called the "Sixty-four Thousand Dollar Question." This program is creating a lot of interest and more will be told about it later.

On Dec. 16 Dr. and Mrs. Smith of Colton, will show their slides of Russia and commentate on their trip through that country, which should be both interesting and informative.

Beckley's Park

By WALT HAWKINS

What a gala celebration was Thanksgiving day at Beckley's. Over 50 park guests sat at a long table, beautifully decorated with Horn of Plenty centerpiece, overflowing with russet chrysanthemums, and fruit. The terrace overlooking the pool, was the setting for the dinner, with the tall palms overhead, filtering the warm sunlight.

The Beckleys supplied the champagne and the turkeys, cooked to a turn, and everyone else brought the trimmings, which added up to a real Thanksgiving feast.

A few moments of solemnity were observed while Dr. Day said grace, then the fiesta began.

Coulter Jones, rigged up one of his Volvo Station wagons, as a mobile dispenser of champagne and punch, as people ate, then talked, then ate some more, until the sun was setting and appetites were sated.

THERE IS A QUIET friendly little "feud" progressing in the park. George Barner and Ben Beckley are running a race on "long stemmed flowers." George has produced a Bird of Paradise with a four foot stem, but Ben has topped this with a yellow rose with a six foot stem. Walt Hawkins boasts of his avocado tree which bears three varieties of avocados, two of them edible. So far the battle has resulted in a draw.

The Fergusons, Kniers, Hoffmans, Powells and Glines all had guests over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stevenson are new arrivals in the park.

Walt and Anita Hawkins spent a week in Bakersfield, with their offspring. The Park Hanchers entertained the George Hanchers of Glendora.

Blue Skies Village

By ROSEMARY HEATH

Jim and Della Tennant are giving early competition to the Blue Skies Blue Ribbon Patio and Garden Design. During noon hour, they enjoy dining as if in a sidewalk cafe in Paris. Many years ago Jim invented Bardahl and many years ago Della did Shakespearean readings and recitations. The Tennants have been at Blue Skies almost since its conception, and during this season, Della will assist Rosemary Heath in arranging teas, charity affairs, and pot luck dinners.

Alexander and Mrs. Clitsome have returned to Blue Skies prior to Alex's business trip to Tulsa, Oklahoma. Alex adds a bit of "Merry Old England" to Blue Skies. Fred and Mrs. Chadwick have purchased a larger trailer and are planning a very attractive garden.

Everyone in the B Section welcomed Jack Hackett back when he arrived in his Orchid Lincoln pulling his shiny Spartan behind. Mrs. Hackett will join him shortly, but at present she is tending her son who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Ball add so much happiness to Blue Skies. Mrs. Ball was injured when she fell in Palm Springs shopping area last spring and she is still unable to walk. Her spirit is the best and during her siege of not being ambulant, she nursed Mr. Ball who has also been ill this past summer. They attended the gala Elsworth cocktail party last Saturday evening though Mrs. Ball came in her wheelchair.

BOB KENASTON (Billie Dove's son) has moved into Blue Skies. He and his pal worked through this entire weekend cleaning their trailer and making it very attractive.

He is currently working in "The Tin Star" at Paramount Pictures, a Perleberg-Seaton Production. Some of the young set at Blue Skies are spending more time around the pool these days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Laws have returned to the Village after going home to vote. They have leased a second lot for their "Doll House" trailer to be used as a guesthouse.

Henry Elsworth has completely recovered from his recent accident. Dorothy and Ed De Patie moved their trailer into Blue Skies from Laguna two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Strong will be returning to Blue Skies within the next 10 days.

"Pancho" and Fran Kelly of Sahara Park were among the guests at the Elsworth cocktail party.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson from Connecticut are adding a real New England touch to their newly purchased cabana.

THE J. W. ELSWORTHS sponsored a delightful party, and they entertained many celebrities at Blue Skies. Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carson of TV fame, Mr. and Mrs. Mort Greene (he is a TV, radio and movie writer), Mrs. Phil Harris and daughter, Alice, Mr. and Mrs. J. Blake Field, owners of the Palm Valley School, Mr. and Mrs. "Jock" Roper (Jock is the West Coast Distributor of Mercedes-Benz), and The Modernaires of the Bob Crosby Show. Formal invitations were mailed to some 500 guests, most of whom attended. Jack Boyer catered the affair.

The Bert Brooks are weekenders at Blue Skies, as are The Alban Nesbitts.

Miss Verna Cate gave a cocktail party in her garden at Blue Skies. Pink was the predominant color of her decor. Tiny lighted candles floated silently in her "blue" pool surrounded by desert landscaping and huge artistic rock designs. Verna's trailer has pink as one of the interior colors and her china is by Sascha Brastoff.

Her guests included many professional women golfers who were participating in the local country club Tournament. Harry Heath assisted Verna with the serving of liquid refreshments and Mrs. Cate, Verna's mother guided her guests toward the hors d'oeuvre buffet.

MRS. J. A. CORNELIUS entertained Mr. and Mrs. Carl Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heath, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Healy for cocktails on Thanksgiving Day.

Roy and Virginia Grayson, Mrs. Caroline Ricono and Beverly entertained Lorraine Snarski, stewardess with Western Airlines, and Herman LaWless, manager of Skate 'N spur Restaurant in Los Angeles. This party celebrated two birthdays — Roy's and Lorraine's; therefore, cake as well as pumpkin pie was served for dessert.

The Harry Lecky's were happy to hear that their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCrea, of Portland, Ore., are returning to Blue Skies. The McCreas rented a trailer at Blue Skies last season.

MR. AND MRS. FRED GLENN.

B-26, arrived Saturday from "Trumanville" and are happy to see the desert again.

Mrs. Edith Gould reported in from Glenn Ellen in the Valley of the Moon.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hague arrived on schedule Nov. 1. "Irv" was General Doolittle's teacher during Jimmy's manual art days.

John and Mrs. Hayduk are "picking up" everyday life again after exhibiting their Rock Collection in the Rally Hobby show. Cecil and Marguerite Kitchen, Desert Rats of several years, who have been absent during the past three years are here again, C-42.

The McLains, B-8, Hughes Aircraft, have found time for a few days.

MRS. GRACE PHELPS, B-50, who lives in the famous "ghost town" of Agoura (near Calabasas) answered roll call Saturday for the coming season.

The Van Geests, B-36, arrived from Seattle last week. Van is Seattle's Poet Laureate.

John and Nellie Wilson, A-23, are packing for their trip to Florida and way points.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Young, B-16, have their new 40 footer.

Stiffer Safety Controls Set On Insecticides

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has announced stiffer safety controls on some insecticides because of "new evidence" that they are sometimes far more poisonous to man than had been suspected. Food and Drug Commissioner George P. Larrick said his scientists have discovered that organic phosphates, used to protect food crops, can be more dangerous when employed together than singly.

THE GOVERNMENT sets rigid limits on the amount of insecticide which can be left in foods without endangering the public. But it has always tested chemicals singly rather than in combination.

Larrick said scientists suspected that one organic phosphate might actually increase the toxicity of another when used together. Experiments bore them out.

It takes 50 parts per million of the Phosphate EPN to produce a poisonous effect. It takes 250 parts per million of Malathion to do the same. But the experts found, in tests on dogs, that it took only 20 parts of EPN and 100 parts of Malathion when the chemicals were used together.

The great blue heron is the largest American heron. It stands some four feet high and has a wing-spread of about six feet. It puts its long bill to good use in spearing food in shallow water and defending itself.

High School Highlights

By DONIVEE ELLISON

The Senior Class play, "Ring Around Elizabeth," is now in its last week of rehearsals. The sets are being completed under the direction of Irving Sussman, Junior and Senior English teacher, and dress rehearsals are underway with Alex Hammond, the faculty director, and Jim Miller, the student director, in charge of the production.

Hammond stated, "This play has more reality and depth and should have more appeal than plays in recent years." Tickets are now on sale at the price of $1 for adults and 75 cents for students. The play will be held on Nov. 31 and Dec. 1 at Frances S. Stevens auditorium at 8 p.m. All people interested in an evening of fine entertainment are urged to come.

The Palm Springs High School staff now has the added assistance of a new guidance director, Mrs. Lois G. Nowlin. Her main duties will pertain to students who are having personal, social or school adjustment problems. Mrs. Nowlin has received her masters degree in psychology at Stanford and her vast experience coupled with her natural warm personality will be a tremendous aid to the Palm Springs High School student body.

ONCE AGAIN THIS year's Spirit Trophy was awarded to the Senior Class of 1957 as they won the race for the sale of student body cards. The contest was a close one, with the Sophomores offering a great deal of competition. The award was presented at the Homecoming dance to Senior Class President Rollin Binnzer.

The race for class funds between the Sophomores and the Freshmen is now underway with both classes competing to all the most magazines. This sale needs not only the support of the students but of all the many Villagers who are interested in supporting school activities.

Handel's "Messiah" will be presented at the annual Christmas program of the Palm Springs High School with Alex Hammond Palm Springs High School music teacher, directing the choir and Gustave Patzner, band instructor, conducting the orchestra. The date has been set for Friday, Dec. 14, and the program will be held at the high school.

ANOTHER CHRISTMAS feature will be the annual Christmas dance sponsored by the Girls Athletic Association and the Lettermen's Club. The dance is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 15, at the Palm Springs Playhouse from 8 to 11 p.m.

The Drill Team met in the high school gymnasium to plan on costumes and routines for the coming basketball season. Last year the drill team was organized as an extra-curricular activity for high school girls.

Tentative plans are now being worked on by the Scholarship Society to enable them to journey to Disneyland on Dec. 4 for the Scholarship Ditch Day. Another Scholarship Society activity is the plan of the members to tutor students around school who are having difficulty with their work.

Many activities are on the agenda for the Girls Athletic Association this year. They are planning to serve the varsity basketball team sandwiches and hot chocolate after the games this year. The annual Date-with-Dad program was held last night. This program is always a very interesting one as the G.A.A. girls invite their fathers to come as their dates to the high school.

LETTERMAN'S CLUB officers for this year are Dawson Hayward, president, Gary Waters vice president, and Lindsay Nielson, secretary.

The newly organized Bible Club has elected as its officers for this year: Fred Grimm, president, Richard Reakes, vice president, Wendy Taylor, secretary and John Hinman, devotional leader.

ASB President Roger Williams, head cheerleader Barbara Adams, and Principal Henry Greeley were the ones representing Palm Springs High School at the first meeting of the National Association of Student Councils in Beaumont.

Swiss Stop Run On Uncurbed Gas

BERN, Switzerland, (AP)—The Swiss government today stopped the flow of cheap and ration free Swiss gasoline for foreign motorists.

Several thousand French, Italian and German motorists, it was reported, crossed the Swiss border during the past week for the sole purpose of buying cheap Swiss gasoline.

But a government decree issued today put a stop to this practice in order to conserve Switzerland's dwindling stocks.

Gov. Knight Bans Liquor at Parties

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight Monday banned the serving of liquor at office Christmas parties in state buildings.

"It would be frightful if one traffic fatality could be blamed on the use of liquor in our buildings," he said.

Villagers Asked to Mail Christmas Packages, Cards Earlier This Year

Expecting the largest Christmas mailing season in the history of the local post office, Postmaster S. Merritt Williams today sounded his annual appeal to citizens of Palm Springs to "shop early and mail early."

Putting it off just places an extra burden on the staff of the post office and may result in delay of Christmas mail and parcels, he said.

The local staff will be augmented by 15 or 20 extra employees on Dec. 10 to handle the anticipated load.

Every facility of the local office again will be pressed into service this year and the ambition of the staff is to have all Christmas mail cleared out by Christmas. "There are still some people who believe that a card arriving on Christmas Eve has a special significance," Williams said. "But it is the thought behind the gift or card, not the time it arrives, that is important."

The postmaster praised the fine cooperation of Villagers in past years and expressed the hope that this cooperation will be in evidence this year.

"By following the simple suggestions of mailing early, wrapping carefully and addressing plainly, Palm Springs citizens will be assured of the safe and timely arrival of their Christmas mail," Williams added.

Mrs. Ellen Walling West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Walling, and John Moon, son of Mrs. Joseph Moon and the late Mr. Joseph Moon, were married Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in the Walling home on Shadow Lake Drive. Only the family and intimate friends attended the ceremony. A reception for about 75 guests was held in the Indo Room at Shadow Mountain Club immediately following the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Milton Page was the matron of honor and Joseph Moon, Jr., was his brother's best man.

Agent-General and Mrs. W. A. McAdam of London, England, are spending a week or so at Firecliff Lodge. Mr. McAdam is in this country on business, but both he and Mrs. McAdam are managing to have lots of fun and both are enamored with the desert.

Mrs. Philip King, mother of Mrs. Rudd Hackborn, died Sunday morning, Nov. 25, in Galt, Ontario. Mrs. King had been seriously ill and hospitalized for several weeks. Mrs. Hackborn returned from a visit with her mother three weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay Olesen entertained Miss Margaret Ruley of Portland, Ore., over the weekend, and their son, Gary, who attends UCLA, was with the family for Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brown and their daughter, Sharon, of Salem, Ore., who are spending the month here, were also Thanksgiving dinner guests of the Olesens.

Mrs. James O'Reilly hosted a small luncheon party for Miss Ruley during her visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun, also Mr. and Mrs. E. Clark Harvey and their son, Emory Harvey and wife, all old friends of Mrs. Polly Wilson, are having a Pasadena get-together. Mrs. Ruth Clark and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holley, are also with this group.

The Sun Lodge Colony had lights in every window over this last weekend: Dr. M. C. Graybill and friends from Escondido, Dan Potter and family, Brian Donlevy, well-known movie star and his daughter, Judy, the Edgar Bergen family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atha and family, Mr. and Mrs. Deaton entertained Mr. and Mrs. Al Beaudette of Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Margaret Estes, who has lived for more than a year here, has moved to Fontana so she can be near her immediate family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hagen of Aptos, Calif., were here for a few days. They are frequent visitors to the desert and hope to have a "second" home here in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barman were houseguests of the Ed Gardners this weekend. Mr. Barman is a well-known actor's agent in Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sergeant arrived from Gull Lake, Mich.,

Assault Charge Follows Beating With Garden Hose

A 21-year-old Palm Springs man was taken into custody this week on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, after beating Curtis Lee Daniels, 23, 25-702 Del Sol Road, Palm Springs, with a three-foot length of garden hose while holding a gun on him.

The suspect, Willie L. Gilmore, 21, 725 East Arenas, Palm Springs, was allegedly jumped by Daniels as he left his job at a local restaurant. Gilmore said that he lost his temper after he heard that Daniels was going out with his wife.

Gilmore was arraigned before Judge Eugene Theraud at the Palm Springs Judicial District Court and a preliminary hearing was set for Dec. 4. He is out of jail on $1,000 bail.

Earlier Gilmore was arrested by Palm Springs police on a felony wife beating charge, but was released after his wife refused to sign a complaint.

Teeth Disappear, GI Steakless Until Laundry Comes With Polished Molars

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Pfc. Eugene E. Hoffman of RFD 6, Louis, Ill., isn't happy about it, but the fact is he can't gnaw a bone without benefit of his Army-supplied teeth.

There he was in the mess hall at Headquarters Company, 87th Infantry, Aschaffenburg, Germany, ready to tie into a big T-bone steak. Saturday was steak day and our lad had looked forward to it.

He went to work but nothing happened. To his dismay he realized he had nothing in his mouth that would do a decent job on a steak.

Gene was plenty sore. But he got sorer when his buddies, turning to his plight, started to pitch GI barbs.

"GENE, OLD BUDDY," said a guy from Iowa who owned a full set of choppers, "have you ever thought of going on a soup diet? Man from Texas, called 'Tex' for no particular reason, chided: 'What's the trouble, boy? Don't you want that T-bone?'"

The Pfc. began hunting through his pockets, eight or nine of them, but couldn't find his falcies.

There was only one thing to do. He beat a retreat from his buddies and went to bed. His barracks mates said later his snoring was even more raucous than usual. But next morning our boy Gene had a consoling awakening. There was his laundry.

"IF I CAN'T EAT anything but soup," he said to himself, "I at least can put on clean clothes." When he got dressed he dug into the bottom of the laundry sack. There lay a set of uppers and lowers, which he had sent to the laundry by mistake.

The good old Army. The teeth had come back buffed, honed and polished. And wrapped in a package saying: "Good eating, Gene, old pal!"

It was signed by Gene's roommate, a Chinese who works in the laundry. He had seen the teeth before and knew who'd lost them.

3 Air Pollution Committeemen Are Appointed

Three members of the county's new seven-member air pollution control advisory committee were appointed by the supervisors this week. They are Joe Stinchcomb of Moreno from the fifth district, Mrs. Faith Deuprey of Temescal from the second district, and Horace Miller of Blythe from the fourth district.

Supervisor Paul Anderson of the first district and Supervisor Roman Warren of the third district their appointments. The two said they were not yet ready with members-at-large have not yet been named.

Miller is chairman of the present air pollution study committee which with Dr. Everett M. Stone, county health officer, and Donald E. Spencer, personnel director, is interviewing this week three qualified engineers for the position of air pollution control director.

Riverside Title Starts Building $350,000 Office

Construction of Riverside Title Company's new office building at 3940-10th Street, Riverside was begun this week, according to Warren J. Pease, president.

Architect of the new structure is James P. Lockett, Visalia, and the H & F Construction Company of Corona are the contractors.

Covering 13,000 square feet, the title company's new building is slated for completion by June, 1957, Pease stated, with total cost being approximately $350,000.

Parking facilities have been provided for 48 cars.

Employing a staff of 52 people, the Riverside Title Company became a wholly owned subsidiary of Title Insurance and Trust Company in January, 1954. With assets in excess of 44 million dollars, the Los Angeles company is America's largest title insurance firm.

Espanol Better, County Decides

The county planning commissioners told the supervisors this week that they agree with residents on Bath avenue in the San Jacinto area that the street name sounds better in Spanish than in English. They recommended that action be taken to effect the name change to Caminos Los Banos.

The supervisors instructed county counsel to prepare a resolution setting a date for a hearing on the name change which was petitioned in August by 15 residents on the street which adjoins the San Jacinto city limits on the east.

Senior Class To Present Play Nov. 30-Dec. 1

The Senior Class of Palm Springs High School will present its Senior Play, "Ring Around Elizabeth," this Friday and Saturday evening, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, at the Frances Stevens School Auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

Tickets on sale at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students may be purchased at the school, from students solicitors downtown, or at the door.

Peggy Schuler, Associated Student Body Secretary and local representative to both Girls' State and Girls' Nation, stars in this three-act comedy which "has more reality and should have more appeal than plays in recent years," according to head faculty director, Alex Hammond.

GENE DEUTCHMAN, English professor and yearbook advisor, is also helping, while Irving Sussman, Senior English teacher, is in charge of the sets, and Jim Miller is the student director.

Elizabeth (Peg Schuler) is the hard taxed center of an irritating household and her husband, Ralph (Dick Poliak), is a dullard. One of her daughters (Stephanie Bruton) is hysterically in love with a cynical playboy (John Cunningham); the other (Barbara Adams) is strictly precocious.

There's an old grand-mother (Kay Busby) who hoards antiques and a fussy father-in-law (Rollin Binzer) who chases fires and a nosy house guest (Dixie Vogels) and a bossy cook (Judy Roberts). Dr. Hollister (Lindsay Nielson) and two policemen (Jerry Greenfield and Alan Miller) complete the cast.

MOST OF THESE people are worse than usual because they're panting after a legacy that Elizabeth has received. Having reached the breaking point, Elizabeth contracts a case of amnesia in which twenty years are blotted out and she is a girl again.

This enables her not only to indulge in caprices like taking up her daughter's young man but also to tell all the members of the family what she thinks of them. All these things show results that promise well for the future of Elizabeth and her family.

The players, stage crew, and all connected with the senior play are working hard this final week to be sure that this is the best senior play in years. Tickets are going fast as there are 336 tickets available for each night.

Square Dance Openings Told

Howard Haddock, city recreation superintendent, said today that there are still openings for Square Dance instruction at the classes held each Saturday morning at the Playhouse at the Polo Grounds.

These classes are for fourth, fifth and sixth grade children in the Palm Springs area.

Watchfob-Sized Soprano With Big Ben Muscles Can 'Stomach' Anybody

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — Elaine Melbin, a watchfob-sized soprano with big ben muscles, can stomach anybody.

"For three years, I've been doing stomach exercises," said Miss Melbin as she revolved her tummy magnificently in a counter-clockwise direction. "I work out in a gym, at home, even on the road."

"I started doing the exercise bit when my voice teacher told me I had a Cadillac voice in a Jeep chassis. And now," said Miss Melbin as she whacked herself handsomely right between the costal cartilage and the tip of the iliac crest. "I think I own the strongest stomach in TV."

Miss Melbin's press agent nodded enthusiastically. "You should see the stomach muscles on this kid," he said. "Not so long ago, she held a 225-pounder on her stomach."

"AND HE ALMOST wrecked me," muttered Miss Melbin under her breath.

"Now watch this," continued the press agent as he stripped off his shoes.

Miss Melbin obligingly spread a white cloth on the floor, donned a special pair of seven-pound leaded shoes and lay supine, in muscular but comely repose.

The press agent stepped up on her stomach. Miss Melbin was wearing a purple dress and face to match. "Your left foot is too close to my ribs. That's not the right way to stand on any girl's stomach," she said.

The press agent stepped off. "Now, you try it," he said. "I've got a hole in my socks," I said, looking for the door.

"In your bare feet," said the press agent, ripping off my shoes. I stepped up, planting my right foot somewhere near the twelfth thoracic vertebra and my left foot just above the fifth lumbar vertebra.

"Ugh," said Miss Melbin. "You'll have to stop wobbling," I said. "I can't take notes."

"YOU CAN SAY I'M currently on tour with the NBC Opera Theatre and that I'm singing in 'Madame Butterfly,'" grunted Miss Melbin. "My next appearance will be on NBC-TV in February in 'La Traviata.' You can also say I've grown one-half inch and reduced from 129 to 108 pounds."

I stepped down. "Elaine does other exercises, too," said the press agent. "Splits, leg turns, bicycling. Show him the bicycling, Elaine. He's a very sophisticated reporter."

"Not in this dress. I'd be too embarrassed," said Miss Melbin as she folded her white sheet. "He may be very sophisticated, but I'm not."

Rancho Mirage CofC to Hold Dance Tonight

The first annual dance of the Rancho Mirage Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight in the lounge and recreation rooms of the Desert Air Hotel under the auspices of Desert Air Club, Chuck Travis and his Trio will play for the dancing.

The atmosphere of the evening will be Western, with attire to be jeans, western outfits or anything casual or carefree. According to Les Yoximer, chairman of the entertainment committee, presentations will be extemporaneous throughout the evening, and an element of surprise will prevail.

Members have been hard at work in their efforts to make this initial event a gala one. The donation is a dollar per person, with funds to be used for the long dreamed of Chamber of Commerce building.

The public is invited for an evening of Western fun to help start the fund climbing for this urgently needed building.

Supervisors Receive Another Appeal For Off-Street Parking Law, File It

A request by the Coachella Valley Board of Realtors that the county board of supervisors adopt "a suitable and adequate off-street parking ordinance to be effective throughout Riverside County," was received by the supervisors this week and filed at the suggestion of Supervisor George Berkey.

"We've voted on it twice," said Berkey. "I don't think we can do much about it so we may as well file it."

Supervisor Berkey and Supervisor Paul Anderson have previously voted in favor of the proposed ordinance, but Supervisors William Jones, Fred McCall and Roman Warren have opposed it.

"Statistics show that the number of motor vehicles using Southern California highways and streets is increasing steadily and rapidly," the realtors told the supervisors. "It is obvious and essential that off-street parking be provided by builders of all future structures, both commercial and private."

Hunter So Cold He Can't Lower Arms

ROANOKE RAPIDS, N.C. — An elderly hunter fell into an abandoned well Friday and stood so long in chilling waist-deep water he was unable to lower his up-raised arms when rescued.

The hunter, G. H. Ranhorn, a merchant in his late 60s, was hospitalized and under treatment today for severe shock.

Telephone Complaints Continuing, Village Chamber of Commerce Says

A flood of telephone complaints has come into the local offices of the Chamber of Commerce, and all of them are being in turn sent to the Public Utilities Commission, where PUG staff members are investigating them.

This information was brought forward by Chamber of Commerce Manager Jimmy Cooper, who in answer to a complaint from a member at the Chamber breakfast Tuesday morning, said that many complaints have been brought to the attention of his office and that they were all being forwarded to the PUG.

Cooper announced that if anyone had any complaints against the telephone system, let the Chamber of Commerce know and they would be forwarded to the proper authorities.

This was the major topic at the membership breakfast of the Chamber at the Chi Chi, where more than 100 persons heard a complete outline of the advertising and publicity campaign that is currently underway by the Palm Springs group.

Bud Bennett of the firm of Anderson and McConnell Advertising, told Chamber members that Palm Springs advertisements are appearing in 16 major newspapers from Vancouver to San Diego, and the firm of McFadin and Eddy, publicists, has planted millions of words in magazines and newspapers and radio and television.

During the past year the Chamber has become successful in getting a Palm Springs weather report printed in most newspapers of the Southland, and is now working on newspapers further north. The local Chamber calls daily in to the International airport weather bureau to give the weather report as tabulated at the local fire station, and these figures are released along with other reports.

Cooper reported to the membership and prospective members that the Chamber of Commerce has had 17 major conventions convene in this resort city this season, with a total of 5,215 delegates registered. (There is no tabulation of non-delegates). He said that the chamber membership totals 551 members now and that the goal has been set for 600 by Dec. 31.

Harry Lintz, district manager of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, attended the breakfast and told the gathering that "the growth of Palm Springs has been one of the most wonderful things I have ever seen. This Chamber of Commerce is really doing a selling job, and it is not easy to be a salesman."

CARNATION HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR

Holiday time means lots of Carnation Whipping Cream at my house! Nothing but real whipped cream is good enough to top those extra special holiday desserts. My recipes taste better when I use fresh-whipped Carnation Cream in them, too. They never have the thin, watery flavor or the "flat" taste you so often get with whipped cream substitutes.

And, Carnation Whipping Cream is so easy to fix. It whips up so fast, even when you use a hand beater. You can even whip it ahead and store it in the coldest part of your refrigerator—ready, at dessert time, to make even the simplest cake, pie or pudding glamorous. Even unwhipped, it adds its own rich, creamy flavor to special treats like this:

- 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
3/4 cup cold water
1 cup (1/2 pint) CARNATION WHIPPING CREAM
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup Carnation Sour Cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Dissolve gelatin in water. Mix whipping cream, sugar and salt together in upper part of double boiler. Place over hot water; heat until sugar dissolves. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Remove from heat; chill. When mixture begins to set, add sour cream and vanilla. Beat until smooth. Pour into 1 large or 4 individual molds. Chill. Serve with fresh fruit.

Of course, we don't save Carnation Whipping Cream just for holidays. It's a year-round favorite with us. And, since it doubles in volume when whipped, it's really economical. It's so rich and full-bodied, too, that a little goes a long, long way.

I'm always prepared for holiday guests when I have Carnation Whipping Cream on hand. It makes the plainest desserts "company special!" Why not put it on your shopping list right now, or have it delivered regularly?

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK, (AP) — This is the week they "ring down the curtain" on that old "pigskin panorama." Unless you follow the pros instead of this prose, you'll have to "wait 'til next year" to see those "highly touted," "helmeted heroes," "hit pay dirt," "split the uprights," and "tight rope down the sidelines."

Anyway, though, the crisp autumn air was nice and tangy except on those days when it was warm enough for shirt-sleeved crowds.

So for a cold finale, how about a few hot selections, but bring along your overcoat in case these don't raise your temperature.

GAME OF THE WEEK

Army over Navy — The Middies are slight favorites and it is their turn to win. But Army has a real striking force that can score from near and far. The scouts say Army has a faster line. And the Cadets are in top physical form. The vote here is for the Cadets to ruin a possible Navy Cotton Bowl trip.

EAST

Boston College over Holy Cross — Close enough to look out for the old school tie.

SOUTH

Clemson over Furman — Then the uniforms go to laundry for the Orange Bowl game.

Miami over Florida — See you later, alligator.

Mississippi over Mississippi State — We're gonna Miss you.

Tulane over Louisiana State — Parting is such sweet sorrow.

Georgia Tech over Georgia — But don't Tech it too hard.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt — Fraley used to give you ones like this.

Auburn over Alabama — But he's counting gold medals down under.

SOUTHWEST

Baylor over Rice — Say au revoir.

Texas Tech over Hardin Simmons — But not goodbye.

Houston over Detroit — How about finis?

Texas Christian over Southern Methodist — Or amen, as they say in church.

MIDLANDS

Oklahoma over Oklahoma A&M — For the Aggies this could be the end.

Missouri over Kansas — Cherrio to Don Faurot.

FAR WEST

Southern California over Notre Dame — Auld lang sayne.

FAR FAR WEST

Hawaii over San Jose State — Aloha.

Russians Cut U.S. Lead in Olympic Games

Red Athletes Take 4 Gold Medals Today

Hurdler Calhoun,
O'Brien Add 2 To
United States Total

By LEO H. PETERSEN

United Press Sports Editor
MELBOURNE, (AP) — Russia won four gold medals in the Olympics today and outshone the United States for the first time since the start of the 1956 games.

Vladimir Kuts, a hardy, 29-year-old Ukrainian naval officer, became the second double winner this year when he won the 5,000-meter run in record time. He won the 10,000-meter event last Friday. The Soviets also won the 20-kilometer walking race, the women's javelin throw and the team championship in the modern pentathlon.

Hurdler Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., and shotputter Parry O'Brien of Santa Monica, Calif., provided the United States with two more gold medals, swelling the American total to 18. Both Calhoun and O'Brien set new Olympic records in winning their specialties.

The Soviets' biggest day thus far garnered them a total of 64 points, which bit slightly into the U.S. lead in the unofficial team standings. The U.S. which scored 44 points in today's events, led the Russians in the team race, 306 points to 214, after five full days of competition.

A Swedish school teacher won one of the severest tests of stamina and versatility on the Olympic program. Lars Hall became the first man ever to make a successful defense of his modern pentathlon crown, which comprises five events.

Calhoun came home first in the 110-meter high hurdles at the head of a U.S. sweep of the first three places. He ran the event in an Olympic record 13.5 seconds, barely beating Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., in a photo finish.

O'Brien, the world record-holder in the shot put, and Bill Nieder of Lawrence, Kan., finished 1-2 in their specialty, but U.S. hopes for a sweep of the three medals was upset when Ken Bantum of New York could finish only fourth. O'Brien's toss of 60 feet, 11 inches broke his own Olympic standard.

The Russians' two other gold medals were won by Leonid Svirine in the 20-kilometer 12.4 mile walk and by Inessa Iouzenko in the women's javelin throw. Both set new Olympic records.

The best American placings in these two Russian specialties was 12th in the walk by Henry Laskau of New York and eighth in the women's javelin by Karen Anderson, Lansdowne, Pa.

The day's other gold medal was won by Shirley Strickland de La Hunty of Australia in the women's 80-meter hurdles with an Olympic record clocking of 10.7 seconds.

U.S. Loses Hockey Match to India, 16-0

MELBOURNE, (AP) — The United States, which seems to be winning almost everything else, finally met its master today in field hockey. It lost a 16-0 decision to India. It was the worst defeat suffered by any team in the Olympic field hockey competition.

UCLA Action Threatens to Wreck PCC

By NEAL CORBETT

United Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Is the Pacific Coast Conference coming apart at its 41-year-old seams?

According to a number of "unimpeachable" and "reliable" sources, UCLA is tugging hard at the seams and the collapse could come at a meeting of the PCC Presidents' Council here Sunday.

But the men with the authority to speak are minimizing the seriousness of the situation — in a round-about sort of way.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California and overseer of the state's chain of universities, acknowledged that he met for three and one half hours Tuesday with UCLA Chancellor Raymond B. Allen and his aides.

HE ADMITTED that they discussed "the possibility of withdrawals" but said that he'd "be surprised if there was a withdrawal announcement" at Sunday's meeting.

Tuesday, an "unimpeachable source" in Southern California reported that the UCLA Faculty Academic Senate had already voted in favor of withdrawal.

However, the UCLA chancellor told Sproul Tuesday that the senate had discussed the subject, but reached no conclusion.

The University of Southern California and Washington, which also were rapped hard by the conference, might follow UCLA's lead in a mass exodus, according to some reports.

Then the pressure would be on California to join them or face ruinous loss of revenue it derives from its games with the three schools. California was also penalized by the conference, but less severely.

AN ARGUMENT AGAINST withdrawal from the PCC is that it won't life the penalties imposed on the errant schools by the NCAA, but UCLA is understood to be set on it anyway.

Any mass exodus would also be a threat to Stanford, a defender of PCC principles. Stanford was the only PCC school that voted "No" when penalties against UCLA and Washington were lightened, in the case of senior football players, to the loss of half of season of eligibility.

If California should join the withdrawal, even the future of the "Big Game" would be in doubt — and Stanford's athletic program depends largely in income from the annual classic.

Fast Time Made In Ski Racing

Winners in the eight-mile ski race at Salton Sea Beach Sunday in the inboard class were Gloria Dickson, Burbank, and Dan Keeney with Paul Keeney driving. The time was 9 minutes. One minute later Julie Grickson, Los Angeles, and Bill Dickson, Burbank, with Ed Jarkwell, Los Angeles, at the wheel, finished.

Billy and Charles Howsman, with Dan Harris driving, won in the outboard class in 13 minutes. All are from Lakewood.

Navy 2 1/2 Point Favorite to Take Army in Grid Classic; USC 13 Over Notre Dame

By UNITED PRESS

If you're a Navy rooster and plan to bet with your fellow-worker on Saturday's Army-Navy football game, be prepared to spot him a 2 1/2 point advantage.

That's the official "spread" favoring the Middies in their annual head-knocking with the Cadets Saturday at Philadelphia, which usually attracts almost as many friendly wagers as a Kentucky Derby or a World Series.

Navy rated its slight edge because of a superior record this year. The Middies have won six games, while losing to Tulane and tying Duke. Army has won five and lost to Michigan, Syracuse and Pittsburgh.

THE "WIZARDS OF ODDS" also anticipate a close game when Boston College and Holy Cross meet in another renewal of their ancient rivalry at Boston. This contest was rated a toss-up, although BC has won five of eight games, while Holy Cross has a 4-3-1 mark.

Most of the other favorites in this weekend's traditional season-ending games were picked to win by at least one touchdown.

Missouri is a 6 1/2 point choice to make Coach Don Faurot's finale a winning one against Kansas while Miami is picked by the same spread to defeat Florida in their Sunshine State classic.

AMONG THE BOWL hopefuls, Tennessee is picked by 13 1/2 points over Vanderbilt, Baylor is 12 over Rice, Mississippi is nine over Mississippi State, and Georgia Tech is 15 over Georgia.

Texas Christian, which already has earned a berth in the Cotton Bowl, is a heavy 13-point favorite over Southern Methodist, while Auburn is rated 7 1/2 over Alabama, and Tulane is seven over Louisiana State.

Notre Dame will close out its worse season in 23 years as a 13-point underdog against Southern California. Oklahoma, heading for the national championship, is such a top-heavy favorite to beat Oklahoma A&M that no odds were quoted on this game.

Arabs Go Into CIF Semi Finals

Coachella Valley's Arabs, Riverside County League football champions, go into the semi-final round of the 1956 Southern Section, California Interscholastic Federation gridiron playoffs Friday night when they meet Claremont High at Mt. San Antonio Junior College stadium.

The Arabs gained the second round when they defeated El Centro 14-13 last week. Claremont won over Escondido, 13-12.

Heavies Wind up Training Grind For Friday Bout

CHICAGO, (AP) — Floyd Patterson and Archie Moore today tapered off their drills for Friday night's world heavyweight title match.

Patterson wound up his sparring drills Tuesday and afterwards his manager, Gus D'Amato predicted his 21-year-old fighter would beat ancient Archie by a knockout.

D'Amato said he didn't think the fight would go the full 15 rounds. "It'll end in a knockout before that," he said, "and Patterson will win it."

PATTERSON SPARRED a total of 177 rounds, the final two rounds Tuesday with stablemates Dusty Rhodes. He was scheduled for light gym work and road work today, and probably will rest Thursday.

Moore boxed three rounds Tuesday with two sparring partners to boost his total to 120 rounds. He planned to go three more rounds today to wind up his training.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the International Boxing Club said ticket sales for the fight have passed the $140,000 mark and the estimated net gate probably will exceed $275,000.

Olympic Standings

42 Citations Issued in First Ten Days of Traffic Safety Contest

Report to date on the Palm Springs traffic safety contest sponsored by Coachella Valley Savings & Loan Association indicates that the greatest number of violations are being given for speeding, with 42 citations issued in the first ten days of this contest.

The next highest total of moving traffic violations has been issued for going through boulevard stops, with 16 citations issued in this division.

Only one violation in ten days has been recorded for passing school bus and two for speeding in school zones. In the reckless driving and negligence categories there have been no violations cited during the past ten days, nor have there been any drunk driving citations.

Total points charged against men and women drivers are figured on the basis of 70 per cent men drivers against 30 per cent women drivers in the area, so that the total number of violations committed by men are dealt with fairly in proportion to the greater number of men drivers. Current breakdown by the two sexes stands at 467 points deducted from the men's perfect score of 5,000 and 375 points deducted from the women's score, leaving them in the lead by 92 points.

Courtesy citations commending drivers for expert and courteous operation of their vehicles are also being issued by the Palm Springs police.

The contest will continue through the holidays in order to help maintain interest in our traffic safety. It is being sponsored as a public service to the community by the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association, and the tally is being posted on a double thermometer like scoreboard in the large window of the second story of their new building at 383 South Palm Canyon Drive.

Supervisors Order Claim Payments to One-Time Partners of Lynn Gritton

Payment "forthwith" of claims by C. R. Watkins and H. R. Bainbridge one-time partners of Lynn Gritton, former county planning commissioner, were ordered by unanimous vote of the supervisors this week following a rather fervent demand by Supervisor Roman Warren backed by Supervisors Williams Jones and Fred McCall.

Watkins has put in a claim for return of the $500 he paid as a fine on a misdemeanor charge for violation of the county moving ordinance. The application of the ordinance was later declared illegal by the State Supreme Court.

Bainbridge has made a claim for return of the $1,500 permit fees he paid for house moving. The supervisors recently voted to put $1,500 in the refund account of the building department in order that payment might be made subject to approval of county counsel, but County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan said that his study in regard to the claim has not been finished though it is near completion.

As to the $50 claim by Watkins, Sullivan said his study is only half way through. "There is a serious question as to whether this claim should be allowed," he said.

No demand for refund has been made by Gritton.

The supervisors voted also to request the planning commission, building department and county counsel to expedite study of the house moving ordinance and present a report within 30 days. Sullivan said the ordinance could easily be reprinted incorporating its many amendments so that it will be more readily understandable.

Theater Ticket Menace Becomes Menacing With Hit Shows Aplenty

NEW YORK — The theater ticket menace is getting more menacing.

Practically everyone with even the faintest connection with Broadway show business has had a headache since last March as a result of requests from relatives, friends, acquaintances, strangers and gypsies from outer space for aid in buying tickets for "My Fair Lady."

The pressure for that is still on, and now there are three more such sleep-robbars in view.

One of these, "Auntie Mame," starring Rosalind Russell, at the Broadhurst Theater. It arrived with an advance sale of close to $1,000,000, most of which was represented by the pre-sale of complete or half houses to charity organizations which raise money by selling tickets at a premium, with everything over the box office price going to good works.

THE REST OF THE advance was represented by sale of tickets by mail order to the ever-growing number of persons taking advantage of this purchasing method when they scent that something is going to be so popular it will be hard to get into by going to the box office.

This means that for the first four months at least, most of the eight weekly performances of "Auntie Mame" already are sold out. Only Friday and Saturday performances escape the unit sales to organizations.

In the case of such hits, the press agent usually gets two pairs of seats for each performance that he can sell to contacts on newspapers and periodicals who need to keep some of their own contacts happy by enabling them to buy tickets at the box-office price on short notice. In the case of "Auntie Mame," however, the press agent has these pairs only for Friday and Saturday nights—no matinee tickets at all for the first four or five months.

THE SEASON'S SECOND headache of this nature will be the Ethel Merman musical comedy, "Happy Hunting." The advance here already is well on the way to the $1,500,000 mark, thanks to theater parties and mail orders. This will be a new record, and, of course, there will be precious few seats available at the box office for any performances before next spring. The show opens on Dec. 6.

The third candidate is "The Bells Are Ringing," a musical due Nov. 29. This one has Judy Holliday as the star and she, like Russell and Merman, is a sure-fire attraction and has drawn the tickets bids of the theater party brokers and mail order customers in hearty fashion.

IF IT IS ANY consolation to the ordinary ticket buyer, the regular ticket brokers who charge about a dollar per ticket over the box office price for service and who periodically come under attack as "villains" of the theater, have almost as much trouble getting tickets for such hits as he does. Some weeks they get no allotments at all in the early months of such shows.

The scalper, of course, is always present in such cases with the ability to come up with tickets for $25 or $30 or $50 a pair for those who want them badly enough to pay.

Mail Delivery Extended Here

Postmaster Merritt Williams was notified this week by Congressman John Phillips that the post office department has authorized an extension of city delivery service here to provide service to 38 additional residences.

The area involved includes the Palm Tree Valley Estates south of East Palm Canyon Drive.

Not Guilty Plea Entered Here to Hit-Run Charge

Helen M. Crowley, 40, of Chicago, pled not guilty and was released on $1,000 bail on charges of hit and run, after her car reportedly struck Idoline Brown, 67, resident of the Rancho Trailer Park.

Mrs. Crowley, who allegedly left the scene of the accident, was arrested by police officers Ray Youngberg on the description of her car given to police by a witness to the accident.

Idoline Brown is being treated at Desert Hospital for a broken wrist, fractured pelvis and shock.

Mayor's Council To Meet Friday

Mayor Florian G. Boyd's Coordinating Council, composed of representatives of all civic groups, will hold its second meeting of the winter season at noon, Friday, at the Oasis Hotel.

Problems and projects of the city and community will be on the agenda for discussion.

Fair Receives $15,000 From State; 13 Contracts Approved for Events

County Fair Manager Bob Fullenwider said this week that he has received confirmation from the Public Works Board in Sacramento of an allocation of $15,000 to defray half the cost of new pageant dressing rooms and costume storage quarters at the fairgrounds in Indio. The allocation is made from horse race funds.

Thirteen contracts with remunerations totalling $3,635 were approved by the supervisors for the 1957 county fair and national date festival to be held in Indio, Feb. 16 through 24.

The contracts approved are with Harold Ansell of Garden Grove, horse show announcer; Clark H. Batchelder of San Diego, paddock announcer; Alberta Bisbee of Thermal, supervision of canned and preserved division of home economics; Howard Dickey of Lexington, Kentucky, horse show judge; Ora Jared of Indio, supervision of queen's activities.

Also Omar Kerschner of Indio, supervision of mineral and mining department; Mrs. Douglass Nance of Thermal, supervision of fine arts department; James Scarborough of Azusa, horse show judge; Frances Sherrod of Indio, supervision of clothing and textiles division, home economics and Gordon R. Wheatley, Jr., of Seal Beach, music director and conductor of Arabian Nights pageant; Edward Lyman, Jr., of Queen's Village, New York, soloist for Arabian Night pageant; Lindley Bothwell of Woodland Hills to furnish two tram cars to be used at the fair; and Ethel Wagner of Thermal, supervision of baked goods and confections division of home economics.

The Cincinnati Redlegs are the first major league team to have air-conditioned dugouts.
